Sanitary, Storm Sewers Proposed In Nameoki Twp.

The Nameoki town board proposed Monday night the construction of sanitary and storm water sewer systems in the township's most heavily populated area and appointed a four-man committee to initiate first steps of such a project.

The action was taken by resolution which authorized the committee to determine potential methods of financing and to investigate the possibility of planning construction jointly with other townships or taxing agencies of the surrounding area.

Edgar Patrick, who will take office Jan. 1 as Nameoki township tax collector, was named chairman of the committee. Serving with him will be Mike Ropac, who has been serving as chairman of a Nameoki township sewer committee named almost two years ago.

The board's action also dissolved the existing seven-man township sewer committee headed by Ropac. That committee was set up after a bond issue proposal to build a $2 million dollar sanitary sewer system in Nameoki township was defeated in referendum three years ago. Recently the committee has been completing plans for a $250,000 sewer program for State Park Place.

Residents Pack Meeting
Adoption of the resolution setting up the sewer planning committee in a regular meeting session attended by an overflow crowd of residents of the New Haven area and the Breckenridge lane-division street area, both of which were hard hit by flash flooding during the heavy rains of early July.

Board officials told the crowd of more than 50 persons who jammed into the small offices of the town hall, that the Town Board of Local Improvements plans to meet tonight with Mayor Donald Partney of Granite City to discuss a possible joint Nameoki-Granite City program to alleviate flooding conditions in the Dobey slough. The slough is the primary cause of flooding in the New Haven (Angela drive) area as well as in the Lynch avenue section of Granite City.

Harry Briggs, Nameoki township supervisor, said that officials of the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) informed Partney in Chicago recently that the East Side Levee and Sanitary District is the only agency that would be eligible for federal funds to undertake drainage work to aid the flood area.

Revised Improvement Board
The Nameoki town board revived the Board of Local Improvements during a meeting of two weeks ago with a view toward developing a joint Nameoki-Granite City-Levee District program to relieve flooding in the Nameoki township and Granite City areas. Under state laws the Board of Local Improvements may plan and announce projects with "special assessments" charged only against the residents who benefit from the improvement. The system has been in general disuse for many years.

Briggs noted that while the levee district is the only agency eligible for federal funds, the district is financially broke and would be unable to provide matching funds for any type project. Board members said they will talk over the problem with Partney in the meeting at 8 p.m. today and possibly something can be worked out.

Lou Whitsell, town clerk, pointed out that the flood relief

Possible Break in Madison Stormwater Line is Found

A new "emergency" problem confronted the East Side Levee and Sanitary District yesterday with discovery of a large wash-out along nearly 50 feet of an 84-inch storm water line near the Madison pumping station.

Engineers and levee board members who inspected the five-foot-deep depression over the drainage line said they were unable to determine whether it resulted from a break in the line and that they would be unable to determine the cause of the washout until they can dig up the line and enter it for an interior inspection.

This will be impossible until the stage of the Mississippi River drops considerably, engineers said. According to Edward Juneau, consulting engineer for the city of Madison, pumps at the Madison pumping station are functioning properly and water is clearing through the drainage line without indications of silt or sand which would be prevalent if the line were broken.

The oblong-shaped hole was discovered Tuesday by Madison city workers who were cutting weeds in the area, which is located within the grounds of the Granite City Army Depot about 300 yards east of the pumping station.

The storm water line provides drainage for Madison city storm sewers and was built by the levee district. The depression was inspected immediately by Juneau, Levee district engineers A. J. Kraemer and David Johnston, and Levee Board Members Morris Campbell and William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice.

Ebersold said that a complete inspection of the line will require digging up several hundred feet of the line, and that if a break is found repairs will be costly.

Tax Collection Runs to Aug. 15 In GC Township

Collection of taxes in Granite City township now amounts to $2,180,420 of the $9,170,370 total tax bill, it was learned today from E. R. "Pat" Rich, Granite City treasurer and township tax collector.

The collection period in Venice township ends today, and Collector Frank Reidelberger said he will announce the total figure within a few days. The township's total tax bill is $2,830,728.

work proposed by the Board of Local Improvements would provide earlier relief than can be expected from realization of plans for complete new sanitary and stormwater sewer systems in the township. These projects will require long-range planning, he noted.

Heated criticism of the town board and Township Highway Commissioner Charles Hanks by attending residents of the flood area marked the two-hour town board meeting. Residents demanded action to prevent their homes "from washing away" and others accused the township of failure to do anything toward correcting the flood problem.

Briggs, Board Criticized
One woman from the New Haven area particularly criticized Briggs and remarked "It's time you got up and did something, and if you don't, I'm going to have plenty to yell about in the next meeting." She then turned to members of the town board who were elected last April and said: "You ran (in the election) as the Truth and Action Party . . . You look truthful enough, but I'd sure like to know where the action is."

Hanks, who did not attend the meeting, was criticized because the residents said, he has failed to repair roads in flooded areas where deep holes have developed in the roadways. Several persons told the board that Hanks had informed them the board wouldn't let him spend the money.

In response, Board Atty. William Schooley explained that Hanks' office is completely separate from the town board authority and that the town board has no authority over operation of the highway commissioner's department.

Whitsell pointed out that he and other members of the town board have been operating a six-inch pump in the Division street area in an effort to carry off standing flood waters.

MORE ABOUT GC Budget

partment to try to "round up" the missing members.

The new $4,000,000 budget is expected to top income by over a million dollars, but it is anticipated that all of the items in the budget will not be carried out, such as purchase of a new fire truck.

While over $300,000 has been spent to date on sewer breaks, and other breaks are anticipated, the $200,000 budget for maintenance of sewer was increased from the proposed $250,000 purely by guess. Street Supt. Warfield entered the discussion and stressed the seriousness of a possible collapse of entire lines in the Nameoki sanitary sewer system.

Other Pay Increases

Last night's session — recessed from Monday night's regular meeting — also brought about more pay increases that included strongly protested $75 monthly wage hikes for sewage treatment plant employees, along with $15 a monthly differential pay as an operator advances his state license rating.

The treatment plant superintendent's salary was increased to $12,000 to match the new pay of the police and fire chief, and the assistant superintendent was increased by $104 a year, or $72 a month.

Further increases of $45 were granted to the building inspector, city inspector and assistant city inspector to give them the $75 monthly pay boost instead of the $30 for city hall employees. A suggestion by Mayor Parney for the humane officer also to be given a $75 increase instead of $30 was not considered by the council.

Equalization Pay

Other increases were given, amounting to $300 a year to equalize salaries of city hall secretaries, since four doing jobs similar to others were on different pay scales.

The proposal for the $75 monthly pay increase of the 10 sewage treatment plant workers was presented twice to the council by Alderman Basarich, chairman of the Treatment Plant Committee, who said the negotiations with the Operating Engineers Union had been carried out since Monday night's council session.

He submitted a recommendation that also included the increases for the plant superintendent and his assistant, and it was voted down by the full council, after Alderman Moerlein voiced a protest that increases would boost the 90-cent monthly treatment fee for Granite Cityans.

On the initial vote, those favoring the agreement were Alderman Basarich, Roy, Parmley, Poulos, Green, Moerlein and Schuler, and opposed were Rutledge, Whitmer, Moerlein, Jaret and Boker.

The proposal was the same as those approved Monday night for firemen, street workers and police — a two-year agreement with $75 a month increase the first year and $50 the second year.

With Dallas' arrival, another vote was called for, and Basarich, who had conferred with union officials in the audience in the meantime, said he could resubmit the proposal since there had been a change, from $50 a month for the second year to $40.

Mayor Votes "Aye"

The vote on the second go-round, after a legal opinion by City Atty. Scroggins, was 8-to-2. Since an eight-vote represents half of the elected council, Mayor Parney was called upon for a vote. He voted "aye."

In protesting the increase, Moerlein pointed out the treatment plant employees already were the highest paid in the state, and he could see no reason for the large increase that would wipe out surplus funds in the treatment plant account in a year's time, resulting in a boost in the 90-cent monthly charge.

"We don't want to be like East St. Louis. I have a friend there who pays $4.30 a month for sewage treatment," Moerlein said, adding, "I know I represent the treatment plant employees, but I also represent thousands of taxpayers, many on limited social security incomes."

Salary Comparisons

Moerlein pointed out the sewage treatment plant employees, even without the increase, received $40 to $65 a month more than those in neighborhood cities, such as Belleville and Alton.

Tarrett noted the Belleville police and fire chiefs had to be given increases to boost their salaries to $10,000.

Police Chief Veizer divided him that he had talked to the Belleville police chief, who said he is to be provided with a new Oldsmobile and expense allowance and figures his annual pay at $12,000 with $3000 net taxable. Chief Veizer uses his tax-allowance of $800 a year for his operation. With longevity, his pay will be $12,750. With longer service, the fire chief, who is furnished a car, will be receiving $12,840.

Council members voted a $50

Two Trapped in Venice Grocery, Routed by Gas

Two Venice men who were trapped inside a grocery store, outside of elected officials and the comptroller, whose pay was increased from $10,170 to $11,400 in the budget.

Atty. Scroggins advised the council that while all the changes being made in the budget, the proposals also must be presented in ordinance form for adoption by the council. The proposals would include pay increases and changes in expense allowances.

No Added Hireds

Eliminated from the new budget were proposals in the preliminary budget for hiring three additional policemen, three firemen and three street workers.

Left intact was the $113,331 figure set by the council for special city improvements, several of which already have been completed in the amount of $73,681.

The remaining projects are resurfacing, curb and gutters and sidewalks on one side of Iowa street from 30th street to Nameoki road, $17,700; a sidewalk on the west side of Fehling road from Bradley avenue to American Village shopping center, $3600; resurfacing of 18th street from Cleveland blvd. to the railroad tracks, $11,300 and $1000 to survey for a new north-south thoroughfare.

$80,000 Fund Transfer

At the outset of last night's recessed meeting, a resolution was adopted to transfer $63,000 from the sales tax reserve and the $17,000 balance in the working cash fund to the maintenance of sewers account to finance sewer break repairs.

Placed on first reading was an ordinance for the city to receive the full one-cent of the state's service occupation sales tax.

As Moerlein, chairman of the Finance Committee, began the presentation of the budget, he said departmental totals would be read, but Mayor Parney called for a reading of item 10, and the council concurred.

An initial move was made to remove $4200 from the budget for attendance by aldermen at the Illinois Municipal League convention on a motion by Alderman Rutledge. The motion was defeated 2-to-0.

With 12 aldermen remaining at 10:15 p.m., and three of those edging to the doors to go to work, the roll call on suspension of rules was taken.

The voting "aye" to the Whitmer, Basarich, Boyd, Dagg, Moerlein, Parmley, Poulos, Green, Moerlein, Schuler and Boker — the exact number required. Alderman Rutledge voted "no."

On final adoption, the vote was 10-to-2, just one over the required number. Rutledge and Whitmer voted "no."

Moerlein remarked that he also would have voted "no" but he didn't want to jeopardize the city's operations this year. "The council in adopting this budget is telling the taxpayer to go to hell," Moerlein said.

Vehicle Overtaken While Making Turn

Jerry Swiatek, 26, of No. 15 Holiday drive, who was injured last Friday in a motor vehicle mishap, expects to be released today from St. Elizabeth Hospital. He advised the Press-Record he was hurt when the vehicle, a dune buggy, overturned as he was making a left turn at 12th and Iowa streets.

Swiatek said he suffered abrasions to his right arm when he was pinned under the vehicle. He underwent surgery for removal of rocks and tar in his arm.

Car Damages Building

A car which apparently ran over the sidewalk struck and damaged the southwest corner of the building occupied by Faye's Cafe at 1342 State street, Madison, police reported yesterday. Officers said the siding on the building was damaged.

Both are charged with burglary in the break-in of the Venice Grocery, 1001 Douglas street, Venice, early Tuesday morning, and the break-in of Baucum's Grocery, 1001 Logan street, early last Sunday morning. Baucum's store was set on fire, apparently by burglars, police said, resulting in $13,000 in fire damage.

Venice police reported a burglar alarm sounded at the Venice Grocery at 1:50 a.m. Tuesday and Madison police joined Venice officers in responding. Four cars of police arrived at the store and police completely surrounded the building.

Saw Men In Store

Police Patrolman John Kittel reported he looked through a glass window and saw a man run across the inside of the store. Police then called repeatedly for anyone in the building to come out with their hands raised.

Meanwhile, after police had checked completely around the building and found no signs of a break-in, Kittel climbed to the roof of the building and found a hole cut through the roof. When there was no response to further demands to come out of the building, police dropped two canisters of tear gas through the roof opening.

As police prepared to toss more tear gas into the basement, officers reported someone in the building called out that they were coming out. Two men, later booked at police headquarters as West and King, climbed onto the store roof through the hole.

Found Paper, Matches

Officers said a check of the store revealed a pile of crumpled newspapers with several books of matches on them and the seized the intruders planned to set fire to the building. Nothing was missing from the store.

The building is owned by Manuel Anderson of University City, Mo., and the store is operated by Lander and Leo Newman, also of University City.

The Venice fire department was called to place ladders against the building to permit police to reach the roof and remove the two men after they had surrendered.

The Baucum Grocery was burglarized early Sunday morning and apparently set afire by the burglars as they left. The fire caused $3000 damage to the building and $10,000 damage to the contents. The burglars in that case looted the cash register and a desk drawer.

New State Taxes Start Friday, Costs to Go Up

New state tax increases on commodities which were adopted by the State Legislature and signed by Gov. Delvin are due to be passed onto consumers beginning tomorrow along with the state's new 2½% income tax on individuals and 4% on corporations.

Expected to go up are the retail costs of gasoline, related service station products, tobacco, food products, liquor, beer and hotel-motel charges.

An area chain of drug stores said that all of the taxes will be added to the cost of products beginning Friday.

Leonard Anderson, president of the Quad-City Gasoline Dealers Association, reported that most service station operators will decide on the amount of hikes during the weekend.

The tax on gasoline will be 1½ cents higher, up to nine cents a gallon, but he said tank wagon prices being paid by some dealers have been increased by 6 cents, and the cost in many cases will go up two cents.

The increase of the liquor tax from $1.50 to $2 per gallon is expected to be passed on to patrons of taverns and liquor stores, through there may not be a resultant hike on beer where the tax hike is one cent a gallon.

The cigarette tax is increasing from nine to 12 cents a pack, and other tobacco products will be up 20% of their wholesale value.

Most cigarette vending machines now charge 45 cents a pack for popular brands and are expected to go to 50 cents, according to local outlets.

Guests of motels and hotels will have an added tab of two per cent of their bills, from three to five per cent.

Four Club Division Chairmen Appointed

Leo Schermer was named chairman of community service, Will Radman international service, Harvey Miller vocational service and Lawrence Palke club service at yesterday's weekly Madison Rotary luncheon.

In addition to appointing the division chairmen, President Richard Sues designated committee chairmen for the 1969-70 year. State Senator Merrill Otwein was a visitor to the meeting, held at the Madison recreation center.

Sheriff without Clues In Hit-Run Slaying

Madison county sheriff's investigators remained without clues in the hit-and-run death of Lloyd L. Taylor, 29, of 18 Bradley street, while he was walking along Route 162 at Stalings on the night of July 21.

Apparently that the highway was deserted and no one saw the accident, according to investigator Bob Rizz. Mr. Taylor was found on the highway by a passing motorist. An open verdict was returned yesterday at an inquest conducted by Coroner Robert Thomas.

Venice Schools

$31,546 in the municipal retirement fund and $10,018 in the working cash fund.

A substantial part of the educational fund increase results from higher cost of operating the district's schools for public aid recipients at the former Lincoln high school. The new educational fund budget provides $36,166 for this purpose, compared to $23,772 last year.

Additional fund costs for the Lincoln school center total $50,332 and $21,000 of the transportation fund is for the Lincoln center. These items bring to $47,499 the total cost of operating the adult training center. Pier pointed out that all of this cost is reimbursed by the state.

The educational fund includes administration salaries of $58,730, up from $38,045 last year, and overall instructional salaries of $844,745, up $6,824 over the $396,058 last year.

Will Borrow Funds

An intricate system of financing is provided in the educational fund budget to permit sufficient borrowing to repay a $131,000 educational fund deficit existing at the end of the 1968-69 year and to pay some operating costs by deficit financing during the current year.

A graduate of Granite City high school, Lt. Lierman, received a BS degree from Southern Illinois University and was commissioned there through the Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

pates actual income of $177,461 in the building fund. The building fund budget calls for expenditures of $210,865, but in addition $112,876 is owed to the working cash fund from last year.

The budget shows that school officials plan to borrow $145,337 to make up this deficiency. This means the district would end the year owing a total of $311,044 out of the educational fund and $145,337 out of the building fund—an overall deficit of $456,151 at the end of the school year.

Supt. Pier termed the district's financial problem as serious, and said a staggering debt could accumulate within the next few years unless more tax income is made available.

He noted that the Venice district is now in the final year of its current teachers' salary schedule and that a new salary schedule will have to be negotiated next year, with substantial salary increases a certainty.

To Prepare Election

Hartman said at Monday's meeting that he will begin immediately the determination of dates required for notices and publications for conducting a special referendum on the tax levy proposal.

The Venice school district now has an educational fund tax rate maximum of $1.85 per $100 assessed valuation. The district levies the maximum rate but, according to Pier, receives taxes equivalent to a rate of about $1.62 because of the loss and cost of collection.

For the 1968 tax year, for which taxes are being collected this summer, the district levied a 34.96-cent rate for the building fund. Pier said this rate will be increased to the maximum of 37.5 cents in the new levy to be adopted in September.

In addition, the school board has authorized a new five-cent levy to perform work required under the state's Fire Safety Code.

Presently, the Venice district's total tax rate is $2.25 per $100 valuation, also including five cents for municipal retirement, 2.86 cents for the working cash fund, 15.28 cents for bond retirement, 5.5 cents for transportation and one cent for junior college tuition.

If collected at a full 100% ratio, the district's total rate this year would produce $815,384 in tax monies.

MORE ABOUT GC Council

man Schuler had not yet arrived. The next communication was a request from the school crossing guards for a $2 per day increase in their pay scale to $10.00. From $8.00 to $10.00. That letter also was placed on file for later in the meeting, and the 13 crossing guards later were granted the increase. Briefly, the council went on to other business, and then the letter was read in which Coffey asked to speak for organization of city hall secretaries. He said he recently had organized about 40 school secretaries.

Union Leader Speaks
There was another brief interlude of routine business during which Alderman Schuler arrived, and it was at 8:45 p.m. that Whitmer called for the Union representatives to be heard.

The first to speak was Parente for the Firefighters. "We'd like a vote on the request or to negotiate, and if it's to be negotiations, we'd like a closed meeting with the mayor, council, comptroller and treasurer," Parente said as spokesman for the union group.

Mayor Partney commented, "I felt relieved when I got your letter, and now since you're negotiating with the council, I've turned over everything to the Fire and Water committee. Further negotiations will now be strictly with the council."

Alderman Basarich suggested a meeting later this week for negotiations, and Alderman Daves mentioned Tuesday night.

Nonn interrupted the discussion to call for a breakdown on the cost to the city for the $30 pay boost and the $500,000 it's given the police department last week.

"We need to get into the budget to reach such a decision, and we've better get into it tonight in case it takes two meetings for passage," Basarich remarked.

Waiting for Results
He was answered by Alderman Boyd, a member of the Finance committee, who said the committee "doesn't know where the money is coming from."

Moerlein remarked that he thought the council planned to treat all employees alike and that the $35 increase to police last week had set the pattern.

"I'm like the mayor. I don't know where we're going to get the money. A lot of people are having serious problems now meeting taxes, and the Finance committee has the right to keep city operating costs down."

Basarich said he has been an alderman for 13 years and that every year there were crises that the budget was too high for the city's income and that the city wouldn't make it through the year. "We've always found a way," he added.

Showing disgust with proceedings, Alderman Boker told the council members, "We're popping around here tonight like chickens with their heads cut off. The city has no foresight. We should make plans in the future so we know where we're going. The council has been flip-flopping like this for years and it's time now to stop and decide just how this should be done, and be done properly."

Nonn got up and motioned for the school crossing guards to be given the $2 per day increase. The council has been flip-flopping like this for years and it's time now to stop and decide just how this should be done, and be done properly."

Moerlein continued saying, the city spent over $37,000 for special street improvements this year, carried over from last year and carried over balance of only $168,000 in the general operating fund, with the working cash fund down to $17,329.

High Tax Complaints
"People are complaining of high taxes. I've received more complaints this year than in any of the 18 years I've been in public office. People on social security are telling me they can't meet such taxes and will have to sell their homes and move somewhere else. And on top of all this, we have all these sewer breaks that are emergency and must be paid for," Moerlein told council members.

and the unions. He estimated a $75 monthly pay boost "across the board" would cost the city $150,000 a year.

Alderman Boker, who has been an alderman since May 1, commented, "Four or five meetings of the council have been called since I've been elected, and there hasn't been a quorum present yet. I don't know if I'll attend any more special calls."

Mayor Partney said he had submitted a budget proposal in May with $32,000 allocated for police pay increases. The police department's $35 monthly boost, he added, will cost $17,648 with fringe and the $30 for city hall employees will add $6,480, leaving $27,871 for all other city workers. "Right now, we have 77 employees to consider. If you favor the $75 increases, we'll have to increase the budget."

Whitmer said his quick figuring showed the $75 increase for firemen and street workers would amount to $57,600 a year, and he added that hospitalization costs are up $6 per man. He noted that the pay for the city hall employees was excluded from the council budget.

At his point, Griffin, business agent for the city hall employees, pointed out that street department employees would be paid $2,000 a year in unemployment compensation.

Nonn told him, "But you don't want 27 1/2 days, $25 weeks vacation." Griffin explained that street department workers had been granted added vacation benefits in the long-term pay during negotiations several years ago and were entitled now to the same type added vacation benefits as police and firemen who received the longevity pay ranging up to 7 1/2%.

Vote on $75 Increase
Alderman Poulos called for a vote on the request for the $75 increase and the motion was seconded by Alderman Moerlein.

In the roll call, those voting for the $75 increase were Alderman Boyd, Alderman Basarich, Boyd, Dallas, Parmley, Green, Griffin, Schuler and Boker. Opposed were Whitmer, Moerlein, Poulos, Daves and Jarrett.

With the approving vote, Mayor Partney commented, "Now gentlemen, show me where you get the money."

Moerlein remarked that he thought the council planned to treat all employees alike and that the $35 increase to police last week had set the pattern.

"I'm like the mayor. I don't know where we're going to get the money. A lot of people are having serious problems now meeting taxes, and the Finance committee has the right to keep city operating costs down."

chairman of the Police and City Hall committees, who said the council should reopen negotiations with the Police Union and city hall workers.

His suggestion was ignored at that time, as the council turned to the matter of major roll, sick leave and bills.

Possible Tax Adjustments
Mayor Partney advised council members that he had been telephoned last Friday, along with Finance Chairman Moerlein, by a representative of the industries planning to file tax objections against the city. "I told them there will be no action until the council adopts the budget," he added.

Moerlein added that he feared a quarter-million dollars of the city's income could be tied up by industries tax objections and that court proceedings could drag on for 10 years.

The big ones can't be gotten out of the filing objections, but the little taxpayer, who must do it individually, can't get out of it either.

Moerlein continued that the city can't depend on a share of the state income tax to meet its needs. "That will be done at the whims of Springfield on determining city needs," he added.

When Alderman Boyd asked what the city could expect in added revenue to $57,600 a year, Griffin replied the bill to share state income tax with local tax agencies had not yet been signed by Gov. Ogilvie and that he did not know of any yardstick. "I don't think you can wait for the governor's signature," Scroggins added.

Police Pay Ordinance
Council members heard the ordinance presented, and among the ordinances presented was one for granting $35 pay increases to policemen and $30 to city hall workers.

Poulos called for action to be deferred and was joined by Dallas.

As this action was being taken, Mayor Partney, who had negotiated the agreements with police and city hall workers, nervously snapped his cigarette lighter lid open and closed with a loud snapping noise.

He made no comment. The council went on to a fund transfer resolution to finance sewer breaks.

originally in the budget, but that it had been learned the council was going for a lot of money for increases.

"Do you feel it's right that we should get less than the fire department and street department just because we realized the city's problems?" Astorian asked the council.

Mayor Partney replied, "I've signed the agreement, but as far as I'm concerned now, it's forgotten."

Chiefs Ignored
Alderman Dallas noted that the city was giving $75 in benefits to all city employees and had ignored the chiefs of the police and fire departments.

"I put $200 in the budget, $100 a month for the chiefs, but it was taken out by the council," Mayor Partney said.

It was 10:10 p.m. and Alderman Nonn walked out to go to work.

Parmley told Astorian that before he arrived, the mayor had said he would not let the city go into red and would cut work forces if necessary.

"You should know this," he added.

Whitmer commented that the council should have stayed with the $35 figure. "The agreement with the police department was good and fair. Some of the policemen, you know, with the other benefits, the increase amounted to about $45."

Boyd argued that the same $75-80 two-year offer should be given to the police department along with the rank differential pay approved for the fire department.

Vote on Police Pay
The 10:10 vote for the $75 pay boost for policemen followed by a vote for policemen and $30 to city hall workers.

Poulos called for action to be deferred and was joined by Dallas.

As this action was being taken, Mayor Partney, who had negotiated the agreements with police and city hall workers, nervously snapped his cigarette lighter lid open and closed with a loud snapping noise.

He made no comment. The council went on to a fund transfer resolution to finance sewer breaks.

pass, the services of a traffic engineer would be necessary. A motion by Whitmer for the $500 to be approved.

When called upon for a report of the City Hall committee, Poulos presented a motion for $75 monthly increases to be voted to city hall employees. The council balked.

"Men or Boys?"
"Are you men or boys?" Poulos asked in a challenge. The council voted 6-0-7, rejecting the $75 increase.

Voting for it were Boyd, Poulos, Dallas, Schuler and Boker. Opposed were Whitmer, Basarich, Dallas, Moerlein, Parmley, Daves and Jarrett.

Poulos asked if the council would negotiate.

Mayor Partney remarked that with the rejection of the $75 increase, the city hall employees now had no increase, and the council had voted to reconsider the $30 increase agreement.

A motion then was made for $45 increase.

It was 10:40 p.m. and Whitmer got up and walked out.

At this point that perhaps the council should consider providing a car for the building inspector who now receives a $50 per month car allowance. It was decided to wait until new police cars are purchased to determine if one of the present cars would be suitable.

$45 Monthly Pay Increase Proposal for City Hall Employees
The $45 monthly pay increase proposal for city hall employees also was rejected.

Boyd argued that the same $75-80 two-year offer should be given to the police department along with the rank differential pay approved for the fire department.

White Collar Dispute
Boker spoke out. "I've heard some comment here that the white collar worker was not worth his salt. I'm a white collar worker, and I work as hard at my job as anyone here. I don't see the reasoning on this comment."

Dallas replied, "I didn't say the office workers weren't worth his salt. I just said they were not in the same category as police and firemen. I never voted against a raise."

He was answered by Boker, "I didn't say you said it. I didn't mention any names at all."

The vote to restore the $30 increase to city hall employees was 10-0-2, with Jarrett and Boker voting "no."

The next order of business was a report on annexation needs by Alderman Parmley, chairman of the Zoning and Planning committee for about six individual lots.

Moerlein, who had been trying to get the floor for 20 minutes, pointed to the need to adopt a budget by midnight.

Budget Meeting
He asked council members for a show of hands when on Thursday a special meeting should be called. Several said they could not be present Tuesday. Others said Wednesday was out.

Need Traffic Engineer
Partney commented, "Let's continue this meeting until Tuesday, then Wednesday, then Thursday."

Moerlein suggested a special meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

With all the changes made, it was decided the comptroller would need time to figure reasons to the budget proposals made by the council and the mayor.

The final decision was made.

City's General Fund Balance Only $168,847; Disbursements Average $223,141 a Month

With just two months of the fiscal year reported, Granite City has a slim balance of only $168,847 in the general operating fund, as reported to the accounts committee by the council Monday night by Comptroller Stevens.

The fiscal year began May 1, and the city spent $206,178 during that month, followed by $210,104 in June, and the July expense totals have not yet been figured.

The June 30th report also showed just $94,001 in reserve accounts and $53,499 in special funds that are transferable.

Alderman Moerlein, chairman of the Finance committee, said Monday night he is hopeful a distribution of 1968 taxes now being collected by City Treasurer E. R. Rich can be made within a short time. "The expensive sewer funds are depleting our funds," he commented.

Deficit Accounts
The general operating funds showed small balances on June 30 with four listed in red figures—the sanitation department with a deficit of $833; humane department, $62; Illinois Municipal Retirement fund, $1,431; and $1,431; school crossing guards, $3,900 and $1,918; Illinois Municipal Retirement fund, $9,847 and a $49 deficit; civil defense, $1,849 and $2,706; maintenance of sewers, $154,200 and $35,640.

for a recessed meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday. Several council members noted that would provide a cushion to meet again on Thursday and still meet the state requirement to adopt a budget by July 31.

Following the meeting, a council member was overheard to remark that the aldermen had again bowed to union pressure on fear of re-election to give in to the $75 monthly pay demands.

Southwestern Area Swimming, Diving Here This Weekend

Only the Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association conference meet Friday and Saturday at Paddlers, 2121 Johnson road, remains in the Paddlers team's regular season.

On Monday, Paddlers lost at Dorchester of Belleville 268-219 in an exhibition meet in which not all events were held. The Paddlers season record is 3-2, the other defeat coming from Alton Summersport.

The fight for championship honors at the SWISA meet this weekend will probably be between Paddlers and Summersport, with the decisive competition being among older swimmers late in the meet.

Diving events will be held Friday beginning at 6 p.m. Swimming preliminaries are to start at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, continuing into the afternoon; after an intermission, the finals will begin.

TOP DIVER for Paddlers, Perry Dillard, 2001 Lindell Blvd., is favored to repeat as winner of both the 13-14 and 15-17 age divisions at the annual conference aquatic meet this weekend at the Paddlers pool. Dillard, who turned 15 this month, is the diving coach for Paddlers and already this year won the Illinois state YMCA diving championship for his age group.

Late-Model Stock Cars Compete Here

The Southwest Stock Car Association held its first of a series of Wednesday races at the Tri-City Speedway last night.

Chauferers of the late-model cars generally were driving with less than the eager abandon typical of the SWSCA, but Don Gerstner of Breese, Ill., was one exciting exception.

In the feature race, Gerstner, driving "circle 7," started the race in the rear of the pack of cars and worked his way through until he received the winning checkered flag a half-lap ahead of all others.

Gerstner earlier in the evening won the trophy dash and Chris Bargetta of St. Louis won the semi-feature.

TYPICALLY SIZED STUNT MODEL airplane displayed by Jerry Wood of Harvey, Ill., a regular competitor at the annual regional contest, to be held this Sunday.

Regional Model Plane Competition Sunday

(Second of a Series) BY JOHN BLUME

President, Tri-City Steelers

Since the beginning of time, man has instinctively felt a desire for competition. His intense drive to exist in a competitive world and survive with a feeling of accomplishment is the creative base of today's world.

From the flight of the first model airplane, someone has been trying to fly one farther or higher or longer or shorter or something.

Within nationally organized rules, structured by the Academy of Model Aeronautics, this spirit continues. Over 700 model airplane contests are held throughout the U.S. each year.

This year in the St. Louis area, there will be three indoor contests, four control-line contests, three radio control and three free flight.

All-Day Meet Sunday

The Tri-City Sky Steelers will take part in direct organization and operation of one, the Illinois midwest model airplane contest, scheduled for 10 a.m. until dark this Sunday.

After having sponsored seven control-line contests in Granite City from 1958 through 1964, the Sky Steelers in 1965 joined forces with the Alton area Thunderbolts to co-sponsor a bigger and better contest and are doing so again in 1969.

The two clubs will be sponsoring the biggest adventure in model aviation throughout southern and central Illinois on Sunday.

Model Port at Airport

This will be the fifth year for the jointly-sponsored meet to be held at the Civic Memorial Airport on Route 111 near Alton.

At Civic Memorial is located the only model port in central and southern Illinois; it features a paved circle, a concrete Navy carrier deck for takeoffs and landings, several grass circles, parking space and a shaded area.

Featured in this, in addition to the scheduled control-line events, is an outdoor hand launch glider event for children ages six through 12.

Chance for Youngsters

Youngsters, without any previous building or flying experience or membership in any model airplane organization, can attend the contest and take part in this event.

Awards will be made through at least three first places, and model airplane merchandise will be given for subsequent awards.

The sponsors, in this manner, hope to expose many youngsters to the excitement of flying a model airplane in a simple competition with boys and girls of their own age.

Over the past four years, the regional contest has drawn contestants from many surrounding states, such as Missouri, Indiana, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Iowa and Tennessee.

With this background of attendance, this year's festivity should present a highly competitive contest.

The competition is open to all model airplane enthusiasts provided they possess or are willing to obtain membership in the Academy of Model Aeronautics (not necessary for the glider event).

The meet is conducted under the sanction of this organization, and membership within the AMA assures contest sponsors that the contestant has satisfactory insurance coverage.

Modelers, competing in several age brackets, will enter the serious competition in control-line events, of which there are eight.

Events will include:

Scale—the event with which non-model builders can and do immediately associate, since the models are built to the exact scale of a real airplane.

These exact scale replicas give the thrill of realistic flight through the use of throttle or retractable gear or apparatus used by the real airplanes. Winners are determined by points earned for fidelity to scale and flight points.

Stunt—in this event, the contestant attempts to put his model on two-foot control-lines and through a predetermined sequence and set of aerobically maneuvers such as loops, wing-clippers, inverted flight, figure eights, etc. These are usually the largest models at a control-line contest, with wingspans of over 50 inches. Flown on two 60- to 70-foot braided cables of .018-inch diameter, these models are near-scale aircraft and give a graceful flight.

Combat—One of the most exciting of all control-line events, known to modelers as the "spectacle event." Models are fitted two in one circle, each on two-foot control-lines and flying at speeds of up to 115 miles an hour.

When an eight-foot strip of crepe paper attached to a leader tied to the model airplane, each of the two contestants attempts to earn points by making "cuts" on the streamer attached to his opponent's model.

The models, usually resembling only a flying wing, are highly maneuverable and a model aviator's answer to the "cut" is a series of cuts from the tail of the enemy. Models are powered by .36-cubic-inch displacement engines using pressurized fuel systems.

"Answer to Indianapolis"

Rat Race—Another of the "spectacle" events, since more than one model is flown in one circle at a time. Known as model aviation's answer to the "Indianapolis 500," the rat race determines winners through a series of heat races requiring pit stops from which models are refueled, restarted and repaired and again become airborne.

Featured in this, in addition to the scheduled control-line events, is an outdoor hand launch glider event for children ages six through 12.

Featured in this, in addition to the scheduled control-line events, is an outdoor hand launch glider event for children ages six through 12.

Youngsters, without any previous building or flying experience or membership in any model airplane organization, can attend the contest and take part in this event.

Awards will be made through at least three first places, and model airplane merchandise will be given for subsequent awards.

The sponsors, in this manner, hope to expose many youngsters to the excitement of flying a model airplane in a simple competition with boys and girls of their own age.

Over the past four years, the regional contest has drawn contestants from many surrounding states, such as Missouri, Indiana, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Iowa and Tennessee.

With this background of attendance, this year's festivity should present a highly competitive contest.

The competition is open to all model airplane enthusiasts provided they possess or are willing to obtain membership in the Academy of Model Aeronautics (not necessary for the glider event).

The meet is conducted under the sanction of this organization, and membership within the AMA assures contest sponsors that the contestant has satisfactory insurance coverage.

Modelers, competing in several age brackets, will enter the serious competition in control-line events, of which there are eight.

Events will include:

Scale—the event with which non-model builders can and do immediately associate, since the models are built to the exact scale of a real airplane.

Stunt—in this event, the contestant attempts to put his model on two-foot control-lines and through a predetermined sequence and set of aerobically maneuvers such as loops, wing-clippers, inverted flight, figure eights, etc. These are usually the largest models at a control-line contest, with wingspans of over 50 inches. Flown on two 60- to 70-foot braided cables of .018-inch diameter, these models are near-scale aircraft and give a graceful flight.

Combat—One of the most exciting of all control-line events, known to modelers as the "spectacle event." Models are fitted two in one circle, each on two-foot control-lines and flying at speeds of up to 115 miles an hour.

When an eight-foot strip of crepe paper attached to a leader tied to the model airplane, each of the two contestants attempts to earn points by making "cuts" on the streamer attached to his opponent's model.

The models, usually resembling only a flying wing, are highly maneuverable and a model aviator's answer to the "cut" is a series of cuts from the tail of the enemy. Models are powered by .36-cubic-inch displacement engines using pressurized fuel systems.

It doesn't complicate your life.

Maverick is the simple machine—simple to own, simple to repair, simple to service, simple to drive.

It doesn't cost a lot.

With prices everywhere going sky-high, Maverick comes along at a down-to-earth price—$1995*.

It doesn't have a tiny trunk.

Maverick gives you 104 cu. ft. of trunk space—nearly twice as much as the leading import. Now the whole family's luggage can go along for the ride.

It doesn't squeeze you in.

Some big people live in this country. That's why we made Maverick bigger than the imports. Lots of legroom, and shoulder room.

It doesn't skip on potholes.

It's great for parking, great for handling, great for zipping through traffic.

It doesn't cost a lot for maintenance.

You can do most maintenance jobs yourself, if you want. If your mechanic does it, he can do it in a lot less time. Great when time is money and the money is yours.

It doesn't need a lot of service.

Maverick oil changes and chassis lubrication come less often than in the leading import. (Isn't it time you started seeing less of your mechanic and more of your car?)

It doesn't burn a lot of gas.

Maverick gives you the kind of mileage you'd expect from a little import—even with a powerful six-cylinder engine.

It doesn't break back on power.

Turn on the engine and turn loose 105 horses—nearly twice as much as the leading import. This means highway power, passing power. The kind of power you need.

It doesn't handle like a kite.

The road might be wet and the wind strong but Maverick's tread is wider than the car is high—great for stability. (Most economy imports are higher than their tread is wide.)

It doesn't follow the herd.

Maverick's new, different. A bright idea with bold, new colors. See your Ford Dealer for the rest of the story. Find out why Maverick is the hottest selling new car to come along since Mustang.

It doesn't skimp on essentials.

Maverick gives you tough brakes, unitized body construction, rustproofing, and four coats of paint. Its 3-speed transmission is able to handle twice as much horsepower as the engine turns out.

It doesn't burn a lot of gas.

Pennant Fever Back And Maxvill Has It

Although technically no longer a Granite City team, Dan Maxvill continues to capture the interest of local fans as the St. Louis Cardinals climb toward what could be a third straight pennant, the fourth in six years.

The able shortstop received good-natured jibes after stealing a base in the fourth inning Tuesday night, his first stolen base since 1968. Last night he tripled in three runs and then scored in a five-run seventh inning that defeated San Diego 7-1.

He is among the top several Cardinals this season in runs-batted-in-per-opportunity.

of the tour team; Col. Donovan Vance, director of the state Civil Defense Agency; John Lewis, director of the Illinois Department of Agriculture, and Eugene Wertepny, representing the Division of Highways and Division of Waterways.

No Flood Aid for Homeowner, State Officials Report

An Illinois "tour team" assigned by Gov. Ogilvie to assess recent flood damage in Madison and St. Clair counties, along with other sections of the state, paid a rush visit here yesterday under a jet-speed time table to inform a meeting in the Granite City Civilian Defense quarters that there is virtually no financial relief available unless the stricken sections of the state are declared a disaster area.

Eight state and federal representatives addressed the meeting of less than an hour to report on the functions of their offices and circumstances under which flood damage relief is available. All agreed there is no relief for the individual homeowner whose property was damaged by flood waters, and that even if flood-stricken sections were declared a disaster area the only available financial aid would be for damage to public property such as sanitary and storm sewers, drainage ditches and public buildings.

Alexander P. White, an aide to the governor, represented the governor as team chief on the inspection tour to this area. Others of the group included Col. Donovan Vance, director of the Illinois Civil Defense Agency and State Emergency Planning; Charles Woods, of the Federal Office of Emergency Preparedness; John Lewis, director of the Illinois Department of Agriculture, and Karl Luthin and Eugene Wertepny, representing the Division of Highways and the Division of Waterways of the Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings.

Only a few minutes speaking time was allowed officials who attended the meeting. Mayor Partney spoke briefly on the critical need of funds to revise area drainage facilities. He told the visiting inspection team that damage to the city's sewers from flood waters is being revealed daily and that a new drainage system for North Granite and the Nameoki township area must be developed.

"We don't need any plans," the mayor said. "We have plenty of them. We need the money to do the work."

William "Mike" Ebersold, Madison county member of the East Side Levee and Sanitary district, submitted a report that was prepared in advance of the group's visit yesterday stating that the levee district is in a state of emergency. The report pointed out that levee district funds have been exhausted in emergency work growing out of flood conditions and that state or federal help is needed.

Several members of the visiting group inspected the Dobrey slough area after the meeting, although they had cancelled an earlier planned inspection of facilities in St. Clair county due to the press of time. White, Col. Vance and Wertepny visited the Dobrey slough area, then departed for Swansea where another meeting was scheduled.

During the meeting, Harry Briggs, supervisor of Nameoki township, suggested that White urge the governor to request the Granite City Steel Co. to return to its use of a system of Raney wells as a means of lowering the area's water table and relieving underground water pressure. By this system the industry draws its water supplies from deep wells instead of the river.

Transportation Plan Urgent Airport Factor

Proposal by the Regional Industrial Development Corporation of St. Louis that a new metropolitan area airport should include expanded air freight facilities and serve as an integrated transportation complex has been endorsed by 71 Illinois and Missouri organizations, RIDC informed Illinois Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie today.

In a letter signed by Dr. Delyle Morris, RIDC board chairman and president of Southern Illinois University, and Howard L. Young, president of RIDC, Gov. Ogilvie was urged to consider rail, highway, barge and pipeline facilities near or adjacent to the airport.

"This would tie the region's already abundant transportation facilities into a unique terminal for the interchange, transshipment, warehousing and distribution of all types of freight, they said."

considered to be generally attractive and well maintained.

The engineers feel that, as an entrance to the Quad-Cities, this section of Nameki road should be enhanced with landscaping, with the major effort concentrated on improving the west frontage.

It would be costly to plant and maintain the 2.3 miles in a continuous screen of plant materials or in a park-like character. Instead, it is suggested that plant materials be grouped to provide intermittent screens that would relieve the long monotonous view of the railroad right-of-way and the power lines.

A sketch of a typical 800-foot long section has been prepared to show a possible landscape treatment, utilizing hardy and inexpensive native plants, including muliflora roses, sumac, mock orange and honey locust.

The engineers also propose concentrated clean-up and landscaping efforts at the intersection of Nameki and Pontoon roads, with provision of surfaced parking, and relief of building repair and removal of overhanging signs.

Obsolete structures could be removed by the owners, and small landscaped areas could be created, the Bartholomew firm comments.

East 23rd Street

A different situation is encountered along East 23rd street in the area from August street to Nameki road. A stormwater drainage channel has been constructed along the south frontage of the street. The wide ditch is lined with concrete and fenced on both sides by a six-foot-high steel fence. Land beyond the ditch is used for farming and is a potential industrial area.

To partially screen or camouflage the ditch and its fencing from the view of traffic and residents on the north side of East 23rd street, a sketch has been prepared showing a typical 500-foot section.

Hardy plant materials that would thrive with little or no maintenance after the first two growing seasons are suggested. Trees with a silver leaf were chosen to camouflage the fence and possible future metal buildings.

The planting could include silver maple or Russian olive trees with multiflora roses and honeysuckle, the report suggests.

State Regional Fire School to Open at SIU-SW

An Illinois Fire Department Regional School will be conducted at four Saturdays in August, beginning Aug. 2 on the Southwestern campus of SIU.

The Long Lake volunteer fire department will send five men and one truck to the project, according to Jack Harper, fire chief. Others are to include John Karlichik, Sonny Powers, Julius Sobczak and Charles Kernerly.

Other departments in the Quad-City area, who will send men are undecided as to the number who will attend, are Granite City, Madison, Venice, Mitchell and the Horseshoe Bend.

The school, open to full, part-time and volunteer firemen, as well as the general public, is being sponsored by the Extension Services of SIU, University of Illinois and in cooperation with the Fire Service Organizations of Illinois, the Madison County Firemen's Association and the Edwardsville Fire Department.

An expected 400 firemen will take part. The school will cover the principles of basic firemanship tactics in a series of four weekly general sessions and classes.

Major theme for the general session will be transportation of hazardous materials, a person, flammable liquids and driver responsibility. Other subjects to be discussed include pumps, LP gas, breathing apparatus, ventilation and tactics.

Fire officials from the local area and state officers will aid in the instruction. There is no pre-registration or fee required. Those who attend four class sessions, a total of 12 hours, will receive certificates for the program.

Additional information may be secured from Walter Bartholomew, SIU Extension Division.

Informational Pickets Outside of Restaurant

Informational pickets were stationed outside the Burger Chef restaurant, 2642 Madison avenue, Tuesday by the Cooks and Waitresses local. The union charged unfair labor practices as the restaurant does not hire union employees. The picketing was not resumed on Wednesday.

Man Escapes in Vain--Trial Ends With Hung Jury

A defendant in a jury trial could have been free had he not escaped from the Madison county courthouse during a Tuesday morning trial.

He is Willie Billie Adams, 21, of St. Louis, who was facing trial for theft at an Edwardsville jewelry store on June 11.

Adams escaped by jumping out of a restroom window on the second floor of the courthouse, a distance of about 25 feet. He was caught Tuesday evening in St. Louis, waived extradition and now faces another charge of escape while in custody as a prisoner.

Lawyers in the case were preparing their closing arguments when Adams asked to go to the restroom. Instead of being led to a public restroom through the hall, he was taken to the private restroom of Associate Judge Michael Kinney.

Fails to Appear

When he failed to appear in about 15 minutes, a deputy sheriff spotted him through a window running along a street.

Meanwhile sheriff's investigator John Cooper of Granite City received a tip to watch four different individuals, one of whom would lead him to Adams.

Cooper spotted one of them leaving Edwardsville in an auto and began following him. He radioed De'mo's Nicholas of Madison, chief assistant deputy sheriff, who joined Cooper along the highway.

Upon reaching Madison, it became apparent that the auto was going to cross the McKinley bridge, and the sheriff's

GC Metal Decorating To Have Name Change

The Granite City Metal Decorating Division will become the Metal Decorating Co., division of American Industries Corp., headquartered in New York, effective tomorrow.

It was announced by Ben Friedman, AIC board chairman and the division's president, that the division has just completed installation of a new high speed stripe coating line in its new building in Madison.

Rod W. Key, division manager, said the new line will enable the firm to process tinplate and black plate sheets for the canning and food-processing industry.

office dispatcher radioed St. Louis detectives for assistance.

Steps at House

The car stopped at a house in the 4200 block of Ashland avenue in St. Louis and the driver entered the house where he stayed for a few minutes before driving away.

Cooper, Nicholas and the detectives surrounded the house and Cooper saw Adams and another man in the alley. He pulled his gun and ordered them to stop, remarking "Willie, come to me."

Adams did and was held in custody in a St. Louis jail. He waived extradition and was returned to the Madison county jail Wednesday morning.

It was the second escape from Madison county authorities within two weeks. Five prisoners broke out of the county jail July 18 and were caught five days later in Toledo, O.

Jaycees Getting Ready for State Jr. Sports Jamboree

Next Thursday evening, Aug. 7, about 500 boys, girls and chaperones will arrive in Granite City to stay for two nights and compete in the 14th annual Illinois Junior Sports Jamboree.

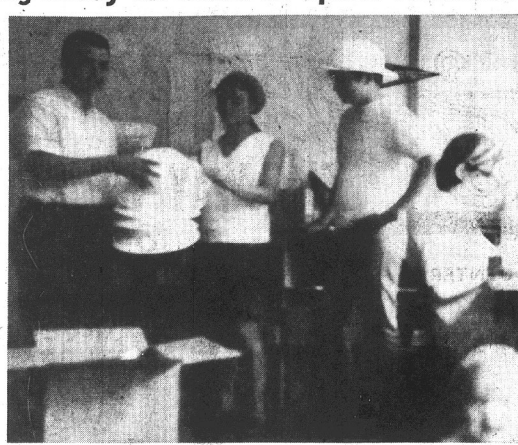

The Jamboree is an effort by the state Jaycees and the Illinois Youth Commission to promote juvenile physical fitness and to deter delinquency.

This year, 205 towns held local meets involving a conservatively estimated 40,000 youths. After the local meets, ten sectional meets were held to qualify the nearly 500 youths, representing 147 towns, for the state finals here at the GC high school field and adjacent grounds.

The Jamboree program is designed with the intent that, "every child can compete." There are no fees, and no requirements regarding uniforms or equipment. Children may go all the way to the finals without any cost to them.

The competitors, between the ages of 10 and 15, will be arriving by bus and about 200 of them by a GM&O train making a special stop at the local depot.

Beginning at 4 p.m. Thursday, the Granite City Jaycees under the co-chairmanship of Boyd Presley, the Jamborees' chairman, hands a stack of officials' hats to Jaycette, Mrs. Glenn Fornasewski in the temporary office at Granite City high school. To the right, modeling one of the hats is Roger Criss and Sharon Uhls and toddler, Richard Uhls, probably the first spectator of the Jamboree's activities.

NEW FRIENDSHIPS were formed this summer. Those helping Summer-ville children expand their activities and interests included Dal Maxvill, St. Louis Cardinals baseball shortstop.

FISHING FUN shown being enjoyed by Summerville students at the Baptist recreation area, Mitchell. Weekly meetings this summer, held on Wednesdays, included a visit to Grant's farm in St. Louis county.

Unique 6-Week Learning Experiment Ending Friday at 'Y,' St. Joseph

Summerville — right here in Granite City — is in its sixth week of existence. It is not a city or village but instead, its sponsors explain, "a place to learn, a place to be creative and a place to socialize" for local youngsters being trained in motor control coordination, visual perception and auditory perception.

The program emphasizes physical activity to aid in overcoming learning handicaps.

Progress made by some of the youngsters has excited not only them but the equally-large group of (teenage and adult) counselors which has voluntarily assisted the instructor, Mrs. John (Vivian) Dine, Rural Route One, a teacher of education.

There have been 27 participants in the initial venture, which is scheduled to be concluded tomorrow.

Community Involvement

At the initial planning session this spring, the parents decided to undertake a six-week summer session. This decision, and their belief that "for it to be successful it must involve the entire community," led to selection of the name, "Summerville."

This first meeting brought agreement that the project must have a "home base," must be adequately financed, and must have a staff of at least one professional and many volunteer workers.

It also was agreed that, because the specific needs of the youngsters involved acquiring a variety of skills, a wide range of activities would be carried out as part of the training.

At a second meeting, the parents met with Mrs. Dine, whom they had asked to direct the project. Once the goals were determined, committees were named.

Mrs. Dine begins the review at this point:

"The learning problems of the children varied, as their IQ range might indicate. There were, however, many common denominators.

Coordination, Achievement

"All of the children had coordination problems. Most had visual motor perceptual problems. Many had auditory perceptual problems. All needed to experience the reward which comes from success. All needed an opportunity to socialize in constructive ways.

"Father Martin Mangan of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, who has consistently shown an awareness of community needs, granted the project the use of the church hall for its six-week term, June 23-Aug. 1.

"The parents agreed among themselves to each contribute $60 per child when it was possible.

"Citizens who had a concern for those whose needs were greater than their own contributed scholarships for those children whose parents could not

Equipment Donated

"Some of the needed equipment was contributed by parents of children with special needs. Some was donated by outsiders, and some was purchased from the Summerville fund.

"Many of the parents of the children served as adult volunteer workers. Other adults whose only interest was to see the growth of children gave fully of their time, which often was not really free time.

"Many junior and senior high school young people are giving six weeks of their summer to serve these children with special needs," Mrs. Dine notes.

"Summerville contracted with the YMCA for use of the gymnasium, where students are working at such skills as ball handling, rope jumping, trampolines, parallel bars, balance boards and organized games.

"The students also swim four days each week, learning water safety and swimming, and acquiring rhythm and movement in water.

City Hall, Experimental Farms

"On Wednesdays, the students take field trips, visiting such places as the city hall, Grant's farm and Purina experimental farms, holding picnics and cookouts at Wilson Park and a fishing trip at the Baptist recreation grounds in Mitchell.

"A typical day begins at the YMCA at 9:30 a.m., with all students in the gym. The first group goes into the pool at 10:15 and comes out at 10:45, proceeding to the hall for such activities as ring toss, bean bag target tossing, puzzles, peg-boards and blocks and block designs in individual programs.

"The second group goes into the pool at 10:45 and leaves for the hall after 11:15. All counselors and students then eat a lunch together, with the drinks furnished by Summerville.

Four Activity Centers

"After lunch, the students are divided into four groups for 25-minute workouts in four centers of activity. Each student has an opportunity to participate in all of the activities before the afternoon session is over.

"The activity centers are:

auditory motor perceptual training; visual motor perceptual training; crafts; and arts and rhythms (including drawing and baton twirling)." Each day's program ends at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Jean Fisher and two junior counselors, Don Smith and Linda Wood, conduct the auditory training.

Mrs. Mary Richie, Mrs. Helen Champion, Mrs. Barbara Lallier, Mrs. Melba Grady, Mrs. Lucille Kembro, Mrs. Janet Curtis, Mrs. Marian Shelton, Mrs. Marie Rieger, Mrs. Norma Kinder and the junior counselors, Robert Tolbert, Marvin Buckingham, Ronnie Keeton, Mark McKinney, Roger Downs, David Downs, Dean Olive, Gary Lewis, Connie Richardson, Gayle Pittman, Lisa Shelton, Lana Lupardus, Debbie Grady, Susan Kowalski and Tina Trenton, conduct the visual motor training center. Miss Mary Rogan, Miss Marilyn Champion, Mrs. Alice Miles and Mrs. Wanda Hubbell, together with the junior counselors, conduct the art and rhythms center.

Mrs. Bernice Meyers, Mrs. Virginia Tondre and junior counselors conduct the crafts center.

Swimming, Gym Leaders

Mrs. Wanda Hubbell and special counselors, Lester Pittman and Don Woods, with the help of junior counselors, conduct the swimming activities at the YMCA.

Mrs. Barbara Pittman is in charge of the gymnasium activities and the moving each day from the YMCA to the church hall.

Mrs. Flinn, Sharon McKee and Dianne Tondre take the groups from center to center.

Tom Fisher, Eugene Tondre and John McKee are in charge of general physical management, supplies and transportation.

Food for the three cookouts was furnished by Cionko's, Kozak's, Cohen's and Maryland markets. Tri-City Coal & Ice Co. furnished ice for the six weeks. Transportation for the Wednesday field trips was provided by the Granite City Association for Retarded.

Mrs. Dine and the other adult sponsors and participants believe that Summerville, an experimental learning design, has been profitable to the students.

"We know that this is a beginning and we hope that the project will grow to include all children with specific learning disabilities," Mrs. Dine concludes.

They Took The Harsh Odor Out Of Ammonia!

Harsh Odor is Out—Cleaning Power is Still In

Women everywhere love the cleaning power of ammonia but can't stand its old fashioned, objectionable harsh odor.

Keeps Cabinets and Sinks Cleaner—Costs Less Than Other Products

To keep your kitchen spotlessly clean there's nothing more effective than SEA MIST DETERGENT AMMONIA. You'll love the way it makes white appliances, white, stainless steel, chrome, greasy food stains, built-up grime and finger prints on refrigerators, ranges, and washing machines wash away instantly without scrubbing or rinsing. Use SEA MIST DETERGENT AMMONIA on all washable surfaces. It's particularly effective in removing built-up wax from hardwood, linoleum, asphalt tile or vinyl floors.

Has Good Housekeeping Seal of Approval

The all-purpose ammonia cleanser that costs about half as much as most others.

New "Sea Mist Detergent Ammonia with Swiss Pine" leaves everything you clean delightfully fragrant.

SCRANTON, PA. — At last someone took the harsh odor out of ammonia and left in the full cleaning power. Housewives everywhere are raving about this new detergent ammonia that cleans the way an ammonia should—but doesn't smell the way old fashioned ammonias do.

Removes Cooked-On Grease from Broilers, Ranges and Ovens

Cleaning grease-encrusted broilers and ranges is a chore most women like to put off. But you'll be amazed how easily SEA MIST DETERGENT AMMONIA does it—with the way it attacks the hard-crust cleaning jobs—and for about half the cost of most other all-purpose household cleaners.

Makes All Glass Surfaces Sparkle
Pet areas can be a troublesome spawning ground for offensive smells. And cleaners that have "perfumy" heaviness, are no relief from odor you're trying to replace.

Rids Pet Areas Of Offensive Odors
The Swiss Pine fragrance in SEA MIST DETERGENT AMMONIA is light and airy. It's like lemon and a little bit of nature into your home. A dash in your cleaning water will get rid of cat and dog odors instantly, leave their "corners" clean and deodorized with welcome freshness.

Also use SEA MIST regularly to wipe down bird cages, drip pans and accessories. This will help keep the cage odor-free.

BRIDAL SHOWER HONORS MISS PATRICIA PERO

A miscellaneous bridal shower for Miss Patricia Pero, 2654 State street, whose approaching marriage will take place Aug. 23, was given by Mrs. Roy Lynn and Miss Deiores Pero Sunday at the Lynn home, 2636 State street.

Thanks for the gift center was a "sea of matrimony." Many gifts found way into an old antique chest or trunk.

The afternoon was spent in games in which two groups of guests created gifts for the bride-to-be.

One group prepared a "blue bird of happiness" scrap book depicting a futuristic story of the bride's married life.

The other group fashioned a complete bridal outfit from paper, net, ribbon and flowers. The honoree wore the assembled creation during the festive festivities.

The tea table appointments consisted of old-fashioned summer posies in blue pottery, with white candles, silver and crystal.

The guest list included Mrs. Tess Zeigler, Springfield, Ill.; Mrs. Margie Karpovetz, St. Louis county, Miss Jane Wilbrett, St. Ann, Mo.; Miss Joyce Eldridge, Florissant, Mo.; Mrs. Charlotte Vincent, Troy, Ill.; Mrs. Marion Hughes, East Alton, Mrs. Fran Minetti, Alton; Mrs. Bernice Penny, Calverly, Mo.; Mrs. Geraldine Dial, O'Fallon; and Mrs. Agnes Onesky, Madison.

Granite Citys present were Mesdames Mary Ruehl, Jo Elaine Feigl and daughters, Cathy and Christie, Violet Ruck, Dorothy Patton, Carol Crane, Shirley Benson and Helen Pero and Miss Virginia Segar.

YULE AUGUST PROJECT

A Christmas in August project has been planned for next month by the Women's Missionary Society of Suburban Baptist Church.

The mission action project will consist of collecting health kit items to be sent to Indians in Montana.

The WMS is to meet Aug. 21 at the church, and the Mission Action Group met this week in the home of Mrs. Margie Fix, 4249 Marigold drive. Mrs. Ursula Lackey, group leader, has reported collection of clothing for the Goodwill center in East St. Louis.

TRIANGLE JUNIOR ROD, GUN CLUB ENDS TRIP

Senior members of the Triangle Junior Rod and Gun club met Sunday at the home of Buzz Morris, 2440 Waterman avenue.

Morris, Lynn Robbers and Dr. David Friedman are instructors for the club.

Project for the afternoon was cleaning up cars and equipment used during their camping trip, which took them to Colorado, Wyoming and Montana.

Senior club members—those who have been in the organization for three years—were returned during the weekend.

The weekend was presided over by Morris, vice-president, Kevin Neubur, secretary, Mark Magior, treasurer, Pete Krieschok, master of arms, Mark Coy, and Chuck Morris, Pat Coy, Joe Dutchik and Jim Robbers.

Morris and Robbers accompanied the group on the two-week trip. They used campers of the fold-down type to tour Yellowstone National Park, the site of Custer's last stand, Mount Rushmore, Bozeman Trail, Fort Smith and the Yellow Tail George Reservoir.

Club members financed their own trip. One of the fund projects of the club has been to provide one type of fishing lure.

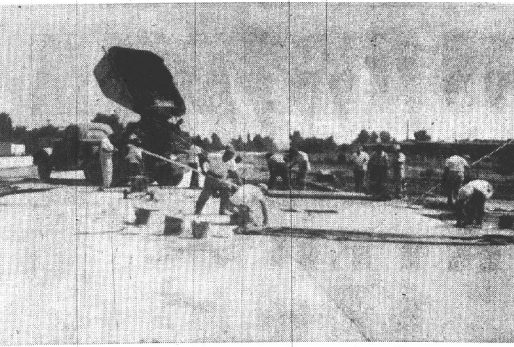

The club has 17 members and meets each Saturday at the Morris home. Approximately 12 trips are taken each year, some for a weekend and some longer.

Pathoson trips are frequently taken. The club is now working on a trip next year to Alaska.

A mother-son weekend trip is planned this year.

VACATION IN FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Linville, 2629 Grand avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Symarek and their children, Patty, Phil and Susan, 2633 Grand avenue, returned to their homes Monday after spending a two-week vacation in Florida.

Intersections at West 20th street and Niedringhaus avenue are expected to be open by next Thursday, and the project to Niedringhaus may be completed sometime in the fall, depending upon the weather conditions and success of current contract negotiations.

Composting Promising; Not Practical Now

(Tenth of a series)

As a profit-generating enterprise in competition with other means of refuse disposal, composting-salvage facilities have not proven to be attractive in this country, Horner & Shifrin, consulting engineers, note.

As a means of reducing the volume of materials requiring ultimate disposal, however, the process deserves some consideration.

The salvage of certain materials, for example, even if the profit-making potential is questionable, still provides for the reclamation of reusable materials, with a corresponding reduction in the total materials to be disposed of.

Among those advocating the composting of municipal refuse, it is popularly believed that returning the refuse to the soil in the form of compost will increase the organic content of the soil.

However, agricultural experts in the Florida area have concluded it would be necessary to incorporate a six-inch layer of compost into the top two inches of sandy soil each year to show a net increase in organic content.

Filter for Fertilizers
It appears more practical to regard compost from municipal refuse as a potential organic filter for fertilizers, assuming that glass shards, metal particles and shreds of plastic film are removed to a degree sufficient to make the product attractive to potential customers.

The lack of success of composting facilities in the U. S. casts substantial doubt on the practicality of the process as a publicly financed and operated enterprise.

The key to a successful composting and composting operation apparently is the ability to effectively market or otherwise dispose of the product.

Municipal corporations find it difficult to establish effective marketing organizations, and it is therefore concluded that any salvage-composting facility constructed within the Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties area should be financed, built and operated as a private enterprise.

Supplementary Role

The lack of success of even the privately financed and operated composting enterprise in the U. S. also leads to the conclusion that the process should not, at least for the present, be regarded as a primary means of refuse disposal for a given metropolitan area.

Instead, it should be regarded only as a possible supplementary means of refuse disposal to publicly owned and controlled facilities of more tried and proven types.

Despite the general lack of success to date, it is believed that the process, when properly conceived and controlled, has some promise of being more successful in the future.

Two Firms Interested

Queries therefore have been made of two firms as to their interest in constructing and operating facilities to compost municipal refuse in the three-county area. Both firms have indicated an interest.

One is organized as a local enterprise and has not yet constructed a composting facility. The other, the Metropolitan Waste Conversion Corp., Wheaton, Ill., has built two composting plants, one in Houston, Tex., and the other in Gainesville, Fla.

Disposal fees charged by the city of Houston are in excess of $3.50 a ton of raw refuse. The charge for composting municipal refuse from the three counties would be on the order of $3 per ton, with possible modification.

Added Costs Cited
In this case, the local contracting public agency probably would have significant costs over and beyond the disposal fee at the plant. Since the composting of municipal refuse is being serious consideration by any local agency, the additional costs should be determined in advance of any final contract.

For a public agency to initiate a contract with a privately owned refuse composting enterprise, it would be necessary for the agency to have complete control over a refuse collection truck fleet in order to meet a required guarantee for a minimum daily loading for the composting facility.

Only three of the larger communities in the three counties presently have truck fleets handling enough refuse to justify even moderate interest on the part of a private entrepreneur.

Of these three, Alton and Belleville already own and operate their own sanitary landfills. Unless they were forced to abandon the more economical sanitary landfill process, which does not appear imminent, payment of disposal fees of the magnitude paid by Houston would be highly unattractive.

St. Louis also employs the landfill method of disposal, in this case through a private contractor.

Any other agency, such as a county, wishing to guarantee a minimum quantity of refuse to a private operator would have to establish rigid controls over the collection vehicles, probably including controls over collection districts as well as points of disposal.

Perhaps the most attractive feature of a private refuse disposal facility is that no public funds of a significant amount would be required for plant installation.

Despite this feature of a privately owned and operated disposal facility, and the apparent moderate success of Metropolitan Waste Conversion Corp. with the Houston plant, local agencies are being advised to exercise caution to make sure of the availability of a more proven and reliable means of refuse disposal before contracting for a composting facility.

Next: Incineration.

MRS. PATTON HOSTESS

Mrs. Dorothy Patton was hostess to the Junior Thursday club in her home, 2316 Clark avenue, Monday evening.

Games were played upon the rival of the members, with prizes being awarded.

The hostess served refreshments to Mrs. Kay McNeill, Mrs. Maxine Clem, Mrs. Frances Janik, Mrs. Vicki McQuay, Mrs. Jackie Fritzell, Mrs. Jean Ann Petras, Mrs. RoseAnn McNeill and a guest, Mrs. Charlotte McKinney.

Plans have been made for the group to attend a theater during August instead of holding a regular meeting.

SECOND DAUGHTER BORN

Mr. and Mrs. C. Robert Graves are announcing the July 26 arrival of a daughter at St. Louis Maternity Hospital. Susan Elizabeth is the name chosen for the five-pound, 12-ounce infant.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Burley Bevil and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graves sr., all of Madison.

Schermer's civic center was the scene Tuesday evening as Mrs. Yvonne Passig, president of the Ship Shape club, opened a weekly meeting with the pledge to the flag and Take Off Pounds pledge in unison. Each member was weighed, roll call being answered with weight losses or gains.

Mrs. Virginia Hohe was crowned "queen of the week." Mrs. Johanna Collett read two articles pertaining to weight loss, with the members commenting on them.

Mrs. Collett received a prize during the meeting. Mrs. Janet Allen, Mrs. Elaine Sova and Mrs. Martha Apple will be the August hostesses.

Others attending were Mesdames Lorraine Gremm, Jackie Gattung, Hazel Trots, Marie Bryant, Betty Allen, Elizabeth Bucher, Patricia Lee, Geneva Hill, Barbara Krohn, Shirley Kingsley, Kathy Dohal, Olga Vizer, Alice Baumberg, Wilma Large, Thelma Black, Charlotte Irvin, Riddle and Sova.

B&PW President Gives Report

In her report on the convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club just concluded in St. Louis, Mrs. Emylee Alford, president of the Granite City Club, announced that more than 3000 members of the National Federation attended, including International Federation officers from Canada and Mexico.

Dr. John Anthony Brown, president of Lindenwood College, one of the principal speakers on the program, said "Women have a deep concern for the human. Women are deeply concerned about war and poverty, about the quality of education and the nature of our social structure."

He also stated, Mrs. Alford remarked, that the nation has not taken advantage of the moral, intellectual and cultural leadership that women can provide.

Still at the peak of excitement over the moon landing, the Florida Federation President Ruth Howell, announced that a BPW pin from the Florida Federation went to the moon and returned with the astronauts.

Illinois received special recognition at the convention with the largest delegation, 372 members present.

United 'Fun Fair' Strictly for 'Fun' and Get-Acquainted

A new approach to acquaint Quad-Citians with the staffs and operations of Tri-Cities Area United Fund agencies is one of the purposes of the "United Fun Fair" to be staged Sept. 27-28 at the Wilson Park rink-pavilion.

Howard Kaseberg, "Ringmaster," said emphasis also will be placed on "fun," with amusements to be provided for all ages with carnival rides and novelty booths.

"We also hope to have as many dignitaries drop by—governmental, civic, labor, business and industrial—just to see what's going on and to chat with Quad-Citians," Kaseberg pointed out.

Geared for Fun

"Everything is going to be geared for fun. We're planning foot races for youngsters, contests for the best agency and non-agency booths, with trophies for the winners, and maybe even fast-draw water pistol duels for husbands and wives."

"The idea for the fun fair are pouring in, and we're calling upon local civic clubs and all organizations to join in the festivities. Our plans now are for the hours to be from 1 to 9 p.m. each day, with a small admission charge. Tickets will be sold by agency staffs and volunteers."

Hillmer Named General Supt. at Laclede Steel

Harold E. Hillmer of Granite City and Joel H. McKell of Godfrey have been appointed to new management positions in the operating department of Laclede Steel Co.'s plant in Alton.

The appointments were made by Quentin D. Hopkins, Laclede's vice-president in charge of operations. As general superintendent of primary metals, Hillmer will be responsible for the operations of the electric melt shop, continuous casting, blooming mill and billet yard. He had been operating cost advisor prior to his latest appointment.

Starting with the firm Sept. 13, 1964, as an industrial engineer and the company's Madison plant, Hillmer has served as plant industrial engineer at both facilities, as chief industrial engineer, and in 1967 was named administrative assistant to the vice-president-operations. He has an industrial management degree from Washington University and has completed executive management courses at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

He and his wife, "Jimmy," have a 16-year-old daughter, Sarah, and live at 2600 Cleveland.

HAROLD E. HILLMER Promoted

McKell, whose new job is superintendent of the blooming mill at Alton, started with the firm June 8, 1963, as a design engineer in maintenance engineering at the Alton works. He has been assistant superintendent of the blooming mill since June 24, 1963, and received a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Missouri-Rolla in June 1965.

The major item on the $19,913 bill list was payment of $15,040 to Milam Corp., East, for refuse removal during July. To bolster sales tax revenue, the city adopted a resolution to be forwarded to the state revenue department for the added quarter of a cent from the sales tax to be allocated to municipalities. City action was required to get the added sales tax which boosts the city share of the state's five-cent sales tax to a penny. The city is anticipating added revenue of $163,000.

Effort to Link College Unrest to Trade Schools to Achieve Alliance of Workers, Students Against U. S.

(Part of a report by Robert Betts, published in the Congressional Record by Sen. George Murphy of California.)

When Communists turned their attention to U. S. college campuses in the 1960s, they found it no longer necessary to confine activities to the old secret "cell" structure.

Radical students and non-student radicals were enlisted to organize college chapters of new national organizations formed under various banners—civil rights, "fair play for Cuba," ending the Vietnam war, "stop the draft," academic freedom—everything from free speech to free sex.

The Progressive Labor Movement, formed in 1962 and following the teachings of Red Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung, organized student trips to Cuba, arranged karate classes and established arm caches in the New York area. A West Coast chapter was added in San Francisco.

The present PLM western organizer was assigned by the Vietnam Day Committee at the University of California campus at Berkeley to head its anti-draft committee.

He also led anti-draft demonstrations at Berkeley high school and at Garfield Junior High in Berkeley, where he recruited 12 and 13-year-olds for a Junior Vietnam Day Committee.

Students for a Democratic Society was the name given to the student affiliate of the socialist League for the Peace and Democracy. Although SDS originally repudiated Communism as an authoritarian system, it excluded Communists from its membership. Red agents sat in on meetings and coached organizers almost from the start.

As a result, the 1965 SDS convention repealed a constitutional stipulation barring Communists from membership. Subsequently, party leaders quietly told members they "could work through SDS." Today, they control several chapters.

By mid-1968, SDS claimed 6300 dues-paying members with another 35,000 unregistered participants in 200 chapters across the U. S., all under the direction of SDS headquarters in Chicago.

SDS members now openly embrace the Red concept of class struggle. They display portraits of Marx and Mao, denounce "capitalist exploiters" and "imperialist war machines" and use slogans like "Lenin was, Castro won and we will win, too!"

They have been in the thick of the disruption and violence that has exploded on campuses from Berkeley to Columbia.

The latest SDS statement, appearing in an underground student paper that serves as an organ of Communist propaganda, says:

"The notion that we must remain simply an anti-imperialist student organization is no longer viable.

"The nature of our struggle is such that it necessitates an organization that is made up of youth, not just students, and that these youth become class conscious. This means that our struggle must be integrated into the struggles of the working people."

SDS organizers are told that they should "direct the focus of their energies to organizing on campuses of working-class colleges, community schools, technical schools and technical schools as well as high schools and junior colleges."

Following SDS came the W.E.B. DuBois clubs, named for the founder of the NAACP. He joined the Communist party at the age of 33, and died in Ghana.

The first club was started at the University of Wisconsin in 1964. One of the founders was the son of a former national secretary of the party. Another was the daughter of the party's leading theoretician.

Other chapters quickly sprang up across the country. The UC Berkeley chapter was one of the prime movers behind the 1964 Berkeley riots.

By May 1968, the Communists were boasting openly in their party newspaper, of other DuBois achievements:

"The DuBois club of New York, a socialist youth organization, is proud to say that, along with hundreds of others on campuses and in communities throughout the country, it has sponsored teach-ins, sit-ins, rallies, marches and the huge demonstration of over 25,000 Americans in Washington, D.C., to protest the war in Vietnam."

Some party members originally had suggested a major effort to bring students and workers together inside a single national organization.

The wily, more experienced

In Banning New Homes, Drainage Authorities Should Also Say Where They Can Be Built

The serious impact of inadequate storm-water drainage has been made dramatically clear by the rainy weather of 1969. It creates a sharply negative outlook on numerous fronts: councilmen become hesitant about permitting tap-ons or additions to the sewer system, drainage officials suggest vetoes of new residential development, potential builders and purchasers slow up or change their plans, and the whole process of orderly life and growth begins to founder.

AFL-CIO President Meany said this week in discussing another subway interest rates, that disruption of home building threatens to make the nation into "one big slum." His thought applies also to individual communities. It is essential that provision of new residential facilities continues.

To cite the negative nature of current thinking is not to say that it is illogical. Many of the reactions are appropriate, if it is assumed that no new drainage improvements are possible.

It is certainly no assumption that there will be wet years as well as dry years ahead. "Protectionist" minded property owners already served by a storm water system apparently fear any extension of it because they lack confidence that the overall capacity of the system can be increased.

The "crisis of confidence" perhaps rivals inadequate drainage as the chief problem. What is being said, in effect, is, "Life here is so difficult already that we can't afford to let anyone else in. Go somewhere else. We just don't have the knowledge or backbone to try and solve our deficiencies as a community. The things are so bad that maybe they'll start getting better on their own, without anybody exerting any further effort."

Such an attitude is tragic but, again, not wholly illogical. After all, if big city lines to take water to the river would be best, and yet many rural residents are reluctant to annex to the city. The city is not sure it wants them and their problems, anyway. Township water district drainage systems are a possibility, but can the lines be routed to lagoons or lakes that actually can handle the volume? The levee district, created to drain water from water district lines and ditches, but it has trouble keeping its present ditches unclogged and seems blind to the value of pumping lake water toward the river at the faster rate.

The levee district also has severe financial problems; it probably could not get a bond issue passed because of its past wasteful practices and because the cost usually has been shared inequitably among taxpayers. And the levee district has the serious problem of non-local control; the increasingly uncertain political outlook in East St. Louis does not encourage the confrontation. It calls for veto of campus recruiting by industrial firms contributing to the war effort.

It does not really matter, so long as it has the support of several dissident groups and discomfits the authorities.

If the authorities yield, the organizers prepare new leaflets. The strategy has been to keep adding issues until the authorities call a demand impossible and refuse to negotiate.

Stage 5: The issue is dramatized by calling a mass meeting or demonstration and appealing for active support from other groups.

A ringleader climbs on the stand and makes an impassioned but well-prepared speech about "our just rights" and "the hide-bound bullies who are trying to deny them."

The stand is yielded to others who build up the main speaker. They also introduce wider issues like "civil liberties" and the "unjust war in Vietnam" to convey the impression that these are all connected and all part of a larger cause—"capitalist exploitation."

University authorities are represented as "hired lackeys of the system," "stooges of the military-industrial complex," upholders of racism and the "real enemies of truth and justice."

Anyone who tries to speak in opposition is lumped with them. An emotional frenzy is worked up by shouting words with roiling slogans like "freedom now," "we shall overcome," "show 'em" and "let's march."

Chanted repeatedly to the accompaniment of waving banners, these have an effect similar to the words of a policeman standing over a man with a blooded head. It is good propaganda and costs nothing.

The ringleaders are not necessarily the riot manipulators. Once you secure the campus. These are less obvious. They direct operations, keeping in touch with each other by means of hand signals, runners and two-way radios.

The ability to manipulate people through violence and the mass media has never been greater, the potential for us radicals never more exciting than now.

They freely use each other's material. Much of it is virtually indistinguishable in tone from anti-American outpourings from Moscow, Peking and Havana.

Such publications serve not only as organs of Red propaganda; they also are used to transmit directives to party members and others working for the same cause.

Detailed subversive tactics are worked out locally at secret meetings, but there is no secret. The board of education is in men's dormitories, deferring, no on-campus repression, they have launched rampages of looting, brawling and arson.

Carrying the red flag of Communist revolution and the black flag of anarchy, they have stormed buildings, held up classes, set off fire bombs, erected barricades and fought pitched battles with the police, deploying radio-directed students to shock troops.

The Columbia riot was directed by an SDS "high command," which set up headquarters in one of the occupied college buildings, and coordinated activities through a network of 40 walkie-talkies, telephones and runners. The same kind of organization has been observed at Berkeley and elsewhere.

"University reform can only be a means to revolution, never a revolutionary end in itself."

hope that the district can be counted on for long-range drainage solutions here.

Another logical but negative matter is the new levee board ordinance aimed at preventing construction of homes in low areas lacking drainage. Contractors and individuals could not proceed without a "green light" from the levee district, if the county government ratifies the ordinance.

It certainly is wrong for developers to build where they know flooding will occur, and from that standpoint we agree with the proposal. But it is a terribly regressive approach when not coupled with some kind of way-out—a municipal or township of district or county program under which it is realistically and reliably spelled out how the builder can install drainage lines that will drain.

It can be argued that there are some gullies and fields where no homes ever should be permitted. We agree. But don't government authorities have an obligation to act positively as well as negatively? If the levee board can take place, they must also say where it can be done—and back it up by taking the essential drainage steps beyond the scope of a family or subdivision.

Senator Should Not Continue in Office Despite the Loyalty of His Constituents

The July 18 auto accident in which his passenger lost her life was a tragic experience for U. S. Senator Edward J. Kennedy, Massachusetts Democrat, whose life has been visited by tragedy probably more often than the average person. There is justified sympathy for him and for the family of the drowning victim.

It is also a political tragedy. Because of his conduct afterward which he described as "inexplicable" and "defensible," he can no longer be considered for higher office and also should not continue to serve in the "world's most exclusive club," the U. S. Senate. Despite the support he has received in his home state, he should be asked to resign.

He is not the only senator whose character, stability and integrity have been questioned. At various times, other senators have been charged with hearings conducted and disciplinary action taken. We hold no brief for them, and it is probably true that some have remained in office after the time at which they could render competent, useful service.

But it is the senior Massachusetts senator whose continued service has been questioned at this time. He has been called "a man of his televised talk." On this single issue, it must be said that he should not continue.

It may be difficult for him to reach such a conclusion, particularly in the face of the support of a majority of his constituents, but it is the right decision. As he said in closing the telecast, sometimes a man must do the unpopular thing.

the circle-time "United Fun Fair" planned Sept. 27-28 to inaugurate the annual Quad-City financial campaign is appropriate because it is to attend about 100 people who are contributors and beneficiaries of the United Fund. The plans indicate it will be a lot of fun for everyone, and we hope there is widespread participation.

On the other hand, the fact that the campaign is being held at this time is a reflection of the fact that the city is in a financial crisis. The city is not sure it wants them and their problems, anyway. Township water district drainage systems are a possibility, but can the lines be routed to lagoons or lakes that actually can handle the volume? The levee district, created to drain water from water district lines and ditches, but it has trouble keeping its present ditches unclogged and seems blind to the value of pumping lake water toward the river at the faster rate.

The levee district also has severe financial problems; it probably could not get a bond issue passed because of its past wasteful practices and because the cost usually has been shared inequitably among taxpayers. And the levee district has the serious problem of non-local control; the increasingly uncertain political outlook in East St. Louis does not encourage the confrontation. It calls for veto of campus recruiting by industrial firms contributing to the war effort.

It does not really matter, so long as it has the support of several dissident groups and discomfits the authorities.

If the authorities yield, the organizers prepare new leaflets. The strategy has been to keep adding issues until the authorities call a demand impossible and refuse to negotiate.

Stage 5: The issue is dramatized by calling a mass meeting or demonstration and appealing for active support from other groups.

A ringleader climbs on the stand and makes an impassioned but well-prepared speech about "our just rights" and "the hide-bound bullies who are trying to deny them."

The stand is yielded to others who build up the main speaker. They also introduce wider issues like "civil liberties" and the "unjust war in Vietnam" to convey the impression that these are all connected and all part of a larger cause—"capitalist exploitation."

University authorities are represented as "hired lackeys of the system," "stooges of the military-industrial complex," upholders of racism and the "real enemies of truth and justice."

Anyone who tries to speak in opposition is lumped with them. An emotional frenzy is worked up by shouting words with roiling slogans like "freedom now," "we shall overcome," "show 'em" and "let's march."

Chanted repeatedly to the accompaniment of waving banners, these have an effect similar to the words of a policeman standing over a man with a blooded head. It is good propaganda and costs nothing.

The ringleaders are not necessarily the riot manipulators. Once you secure the campus. These are less obvious. They direct operations, keeping in touch with each other by means of hand signals, runners and two-way radios.

The ability to manipulate people through violence and the mass media has never been greater, the potential for us radicals never more exciting than now.

Such publications serve not only as organs of Red propaganda; they also are used to transmit directives to party members and others working for the same cause.

Detailed subversive tactics are worked out locally at secret meetings, but there is no secret. The board of education is in men's dormitories, deferring, no on-campus repression, they have launched rampages of looting, brawling and arson.

Carrying the red flag of Communist revolution and the black flag of anarchy, they have stormed buildings, held up classes, set off fire bombs, erected barricades and fought pitched battles with the police, deploying radio-directed students to shock troops.

The Columbia riot was directed by an SDS "high command," which set up headquarters in one of the occupied college buildings, and coordinated activities through a network of 40 walkie-talkies, telephones and runners. The same kind of organization has been observed at Berkeley and elsewhere.

TEACHER HOLDS THREE UNUSUAL BOUNDARIES CHOSEN FOR VILLAGE

To the Editor:

I want to express my feelings to the people of Granite City in regard to their children's education. I am a teacher in Granite City for the past 15 years. I have given my very best to see that your children have received the best teaching and guidance within my power.

I know this is what you want and deserve. I have been willing to work three jobs for the past 18 years in order to give my wife and three children a very average living. I hope this puts aside the idea that teachers only work nine and one-half months, because my family has never had a summer vacation.

Buildings are important to a school system, but the teachers in the buildings are the core of the schools. They must respect the children and the children must respect them.

It is hard for the students to respect people who are paid less than the average laborer. The teacher must feel pride, and his pride is nurtured when his students pull up to the filling stations in which the teachers' children are riding. "Fill it up, Joe. Wipe off my windshield, etc."

That car, by the way, is pulling a beautiful red camper, or some other item which the working teacher would like to own but can't.

We have all been willing to sacrifice many things in order to stay in a field we love, around the students we love, because we know money is tight and the taxpayers were burdened beyond duty.

Now, however, the taxpayers have taken the bond issue, saying, "Here is the money; pay the teachers all they deserve because they are molding our children's lives—we want the best."

Now the administration and board should follow your demands and see that the monies are directed to the teacher. Keep the teachers content and happy instead of disgruntled and unwilling to help your child.

We deserve all we can give you, and we deserve all you can give us.

What puzzles a lot of us are the motives we hear about in the "good points" let them come forward and tell us the drawbacks.

Everything has two sides, and this is no different.

How will it affect our taxes? Most of us have too many taxes.

They cannot give us any guarantee that it will NOT raise our taxes.

Any added income will have to come from the home owners.

We hear so much about all the money we could get back from our part of the motor fuel tax. It is really enough to cover all the expense of a full-time policeman and police car?

Consider the salary and upkeep of a car. Add this all up; then decide.

It was admitted by one of the backers that needed additional police protection in order to get more insurance.

How can we get income from the tax? There are no families living?

At the same time, places like Old Highway 67 and one side of Old Alton road, where there are people, were cut out.

This is where they had the organized and strongest opposition. What would we have done in vacant areas owned by active incorporation advocates?

Why no open meetings and no Press-Record coverage? Do they hope to push it through real fast, without giving us a chance to think?

Once we incorporate, can we do it? I'd like to know the real answer. One person who investigated this the first time said we could not; what will we be able to do with?

Who are the real backers? Let us remember the names from the board since February and has not reached full agreement yet.

A request for a meeting was sent to the board by the negotiating committee several weeks ago and no reply has been received.

We are as concerned about our school children as other people are, but we cannot be ignored.

Supposedly, legislative action concerning state aid was the reason for the delay in negotiations. However, the legislature acted a month ago.

What is their excuse? We are parents, too. We want the children in school. Citizens, you help us start school?

U. Center Building Under Way at SIU

The eighth anniversary, in June, of the University Center at Southern University at Carbondale slipped by without formal celebration in the midst of a $8.5 million expansion project.

Under way is a project that will triple the size of the Center and add many new facilities, according to Clarence G. Dougherty, University Center director. Formal completion date is March 22, 1971.

Among the additions to the complex will be a basement level snack area with a 225-seat capacity. A variety of food and drinks will be available from 18 vending machines.

On the ground floor, a book store, dining areas, billiard room, a cafeteria and a post office are to be added. The two dining areas will seat 450 customers each.

First floor construction plans call for twelve meeting-dining rooms. The ticket office for SIU events will be located there. A 300-seat auditorium also will be added to the first floor.

A music room and library are to be situated on the second floor. Hometown newspapers and piped in music will be available. Meeting rooms for campus organizations are to be added.

Topping off the new construction is a third floor creative activities area designed to be flexible in use.

Dougherty commented, "The entire University Center will be valued at more than $13 million when completed."

Educational Changes Noted Through Europe

"We found both East and West Europe in a marked state of education change," reports Henry T. Boss, professor in Southern Illinois University-Southwestern's education division.

Boss and a group of Illinois educators have just returned from a four-week intensive study of the school and educational institutions of western and eastern Europe. The group, comprising the International Field Seminar, "Contrasts in European Education," was led by Prof. Boss, director of the International Field Study Program at SIU-SW which has been sending similar seminar groups to Europe for the past few years.

"This change has been taking place during recent years," Boss explained, "and the specific objective of our seminar was to determine similarities and contrasts in the major aspects of national systems of education and to some extent in local practices and views."

"In a very broad sense," Boss continued, "we determined two trends that dominated educational changes in both East and West Europe: There is an ex-

Schedule Housing Canvass as Part Of Plan Survey

A "physical property" canvass of Venice residences is to be made immediately by planning engineers to develop data necessary to the Venice-Madison Neighborhood Development program in which the two communities will replace much of their deteriorated housing, according to Mayor John Lee of Venice.

The survey will be made by Daley & Associates, St. Louis planners who were contracted by Venice and Madison several months ago to compile data necessary to an application for federal funds under the Urban Renewal program. Present plans call for buying old pieces of property, razing them and rebuilding new homes on the sites, which then are sold.

Mayor Lee has informed council members the canvass this week will provide information as to available sites for rebuilding. After that data is completed, officials will meet with the planners to discuss the financial aspect of the program, the mayor said.

The Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission is expected to complete the Venice-Madison overall comprehensive plan within the next 30 to 60 days, the mayor said. A comprehensive plan is essential to federal approval of the housing development program planned by the two cities.

The Venice council last week approved a series of motor fuel tax claims for payment of improvement of Weaver street from College to Market street. These included a bill by Macclair Asphalt Co. of Collinsville, contractor for the job, in the amount of $13,862.

The other bills comprised payments to Sheppard, Morgan & Schwab, engineers, in the amounts of $15,000. Another building permit was granted for D. Barrett, 2014 Weber street, for construction of a residence at 213 Weber street at a cost of $7500.

The council also has approved a building permit for James O. Garrett for construction of a

Local Cantaloupes Available Next Week

Home grown cantaloupes from the Poag area will be harvested during the first week of August, according to Mrs. Ray Waugh, who with her husband have been supplying large quantities of the muskmelons and watermelons to the surrounding area residents for years.

Watermelons will be ready later and the Waugh family has a later crop of cantaloupes coming in to extend the season into September.

Mrs. Waugh said the rains have delayed the ripening process, but not enough to hurt the melons. A normal crop is anticipated.

The other bills comprised payments to Sheppard, Morgan & Schwab, engineers, in the amounts of $15,000. Another building permit was granted for D. Barrett, 2014 Weber street, for construction of a residence at 213 Weber street at a cost of $7500.

LATEST SEWER BREAK in Granite City is on Faith avenue between Myrtle and Buxton avenues. Where a manhole dropped through the sanitary sewer line. The city engineer said manholes weigh up to two tons, and when the original solid sand foundation for the line turns to quicksand through movement of water and a high water table the sinking manholes occur. The city has three such situations in 13 sewer breaks.

Illinois Heart Fund Gives $3 Million for Research

"Contributions by the people of Illinois to the Heart Fund have helped make possible the award of $3 million in grants-in-aid for research studies throughout the nation in the fields of heart and blood vessel diseases," Dr. Richard Allyn of Springfield, president of the Illinois Heart Association, said today.

The newly announced grants-in-aid awards were underwritten by the American Heart Association for the fiscal 1969-70 year and are part of the Association's nationwide research support program through which a total of $13 million will be expended during the next fiscal year. The Illinois Heart Association is an affiliate of the American Heart Association.

The grants were made to non-profit institutions for research projects to be carried out by experienced investigators. Allocations totaling more than $2 million to support fellowships for individual investigators were announced last February. State and local Heart Associations nationwide will expend an additional $3 million for their own research programs in the 1969-70 fiscal period.

The Grants-in-Aid allocations cover 163 continuing and 96 new projects. Applications for another 243 grants totaling about $2.9 million also were approved by the national Research Committee, but funds are unavailable to underwrite them.

Affiliate Heart Associations, as they have in the past, will also provide funds over and above their own local research allocations to help support Grants-in-Aid through the American Heart Association's Cooperative Research Program.

The support of cardiovascular research, a major activity of the American Heart Association, is made possible through public contributions to the annual Heart Fund campaign in February. These studies are helping to advance the fight against diseases of the heart and blood vessels, which cause more than a million deaths in the United States annually—more than all other causes of death combined.

With allocations for the fiscal year which began July 1, 1969, the Association has expended in excess of $100 million for cardiovascular research since the first Heart Fund drive held 21 years ago.

Command and Staff Course for Reservists

The St. Louis U. S. Army Reserve School (5038), commanded by Col. John E. Gray, will hold an organizational meeting on Tuesday, Aug. 5, at the Granite City Army Depot beginning at 7:30 p.m. The meeting, for officers of the Army (active, reserve and National Guard) will be held in the LaGranda Room Officers' Club at the Depot.

Emphasis will be placed on the formation of a class in Command and General Staff which is open to most officers who have credit for their branch career course. Plans are to have classes at the Depot at times convenient for student officers. These classes are 24 of two-hour duration during the winter months and two weeks of active duty in the summer.

Col. Gray has announced that Lt. Col. Frank Collins at the Depot will instruct this course. All officers of the Army, including active and National Guard, are urged to attend this organizational meeting as an effort will be made to form other classes as well.

GC Sewer Breaks Continuing—Three More are Found

Additional sewer breaks at three locations were reported Monday night to Granite City council members with repair work authorized to be carried out as an emergency measure by A. H. Seebold Co., local contracting firm, on a cost-plus basis.

The added breaks are in an easement along Terrace lane, on Johnson road at the connection for St. Elizabeth church and in a line on Faith avenue at the alley between Myrtle and Buxton avenues where a manhole had dropped through the sewer line.

They increase the number of breaks to 13 with at least three in four other suspect locations. Mayor Partney reported total costs for repairs to date amount to $34,714. He said, "It appears we're just beginning to scratch the surface and more breaks can be anticipated."

Emergency Repairs
City Engineer Kenneth Kleberger called for orders for repairs on new breaks since local construction unions are expected to go on strike Aug. 1. "If the council instructs the contractor to proceed, he probably could proceed with the work under emergency agreements with the unions," the engineer said.

Council members voted approval for the repairs to start, with Jarrett and Boker dissenting. Aldermen Rutledge and Robertson were absent on vacations.

Mayor Partney reported on last week's trip to Chicago with City Atty. Scroggins and Assistant City Atty. Hartman and said further study is being given by the bond legal firm of Chapman & Cutler on the city's use of surplus funds in the Nameoki area sanitary sewer repairs.

No U. S. Funds for Repairs
He added there was slim possibility the city could secure a loan of federal funds for a feasibility study for sanitary sewer line replacement, but no loans or federal fund grants would be available for the costly repairs.

Despite the pending legal opinion from the bonding attorneys, the council proceeded to adopt a resolution to transfer funds from Nameoki area sewer accounts to three special accounts to finance the repair work.

Mayor Partney said he would not sign the resolution until he obtained a legal opinion. Alderman Partmeyer commended the resolution had been prepared by City Atty. Scroggins and that it proclaims an emergency situation.

$183,167 Transfer
The amount specified in the resolution was $183,167. On June 30, the city's balance in the maintenance of sewers fund was $35,640, with disbursements for two months of the current fiscal year amounting to $154,290.

In financing the sewer breaks, the city has transferred funds repeatedly from the working cash and sales tax funds. Working cash had a June 30 balance of $17,228 and there was $21,370 in the sales tax reserve.

The amounts set forth in the resolution for transfer include $19,464 from the Nameoki area construction fund and $24,000 from the Nameoki area depreciation fund to a new account—Nameoki area operation and maintenance, repairs and replacement fund.

From the Particular Area No. 2 construction fund, the city plans to transfer $14,443 along with $3000 from the Particular Area No. 2 depreciation account to the Particular Area No. 2 operation and maintenance, repairs and replacement fund.

From the Special sewer construction fund, a balance of $23,260 is being transferred along with $102,000 from the Sewer extension fund to the Sewer extension operation and maintenance, repairs and replacement fund.

Illinois Power Co. advised the city it would no longer install electrical connections at sewer break sites without charge. The city has been paying for the electricity consumed by pumps and equipment.

Carl Mathias, area manager for Illinois Power, said the firm had proceeded to make the installations without charge, believing there would be only a few breaks. "It is apparent the assumption was erroneous and with many more requests, we find this is becoming quite expensive. In the future we will expect reimbursement."

Questions Tap-On
In other sewer break action, Dawes asked if legal proceedings had been started at a Lynch avenue sewer break where an unauthorized tap-on had been discovered. "As far as I know," he said, "the connection is still there and the city still is not collecting a monthly fee."

"What are we doing about it?" he asked City Atty. Scroggins.

The attorney replied that he still does not have a figure on the total repair cost at that particular break, and that he would need that information before proceeding. City Engineer Kleberger said he would give the data to Scroggins.

Bicycle Owners Urged To Record Numbers

The Granite City police department is urging bicycle owners to record registration numbers on their vehicles in case of theft.

Dusan Gagich, youth officer, said the numbers will make positive identification possible in cases where the bicycles are recovered.

He added that in some instances attempts are made to claim bicycles stored at the police station by persons other than the owners.

$80,076 Approved for Area Crime Control

The Illinois Law Enforcement Commission has approved grants totaling $80,076 for five regional projects aimed at crime reduction and prevention.

The projects were recommended to the commission in June by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Plan Commission and Circuit Judge Richard T. Carroll at Belleville, a member of the commission.

Included is a grant of $9375, or 75% of the cost, for a project for training and equipping officers in the Alton police department in mob control and prevention. Police departments in Granite City, East Alton, Wood River, Roxana, South Roxana, Edwardsville, Hartford, Jerseyville and the Madison county sheriff's office will be invited to participate.

The Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission received $13,000, or 60% of the cost, for an investigation, study and indexing of public and private juvenile and youth service agencies to utilize to the fullest the existing services and to determine the need for others.

Other grants included $19,371 for an East St. Louis police department community relations project, $17,550 for improvement and enlargement of the Cahokia police department and $20,900 to implement a large quantity of law enforcement in Monroe county.

The funds are available under the 1968 Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act.

State Explains Rule On Joint Car Owners

Secretary of State Paul Powell today pointed out to passenger car owners who register their cars in joint ownership that they must add certain items of information to the pre-printed applications for 1970 registration sent to them by mail.

The pre-printed applications show the name, drivers license number and social security number of only one of the owners. The name, drivers license number and social security number of the other owner must be entered on the application.

All owners whose names appear on the certificate of title for the car must sign the application. Secretary Powell said.

Specific instructions are printed on the face of the application near the center, and general instructions are printed on the back, but because they are looked over occasionally a special effort to bring them to passenger car owners' attention.

Failure to enter the required information will result in returning the application for addition of the missing data, which will bring delay in processing and cause added postage expense for both the state and the car owners, Powell said.

Power Line Downed

Prowler Complaints

Woodlawn Residents Seek Lighting in Alley, Street

More street and alley lighting in Maryland Place was promised Monday night by Granite City council members after hearing complaints by a spokesman for a delegation of Woodlawn avenue residents.

Glenn Tonsor, 2106 Woodlawn, said at least four lights are sought in the 2100 block alley between Lynch and Woodlawn avenues.

We're subject to much harassment, and if something isn't done by the city, we will take matters into our own hands. We've had vandalism to our homes, our cars are being stolen and looted and we're having prowlers," Tonsor told council members, commenting that his dog had chased off prowlers Sunday night.

Tonsor added that since Woodlawn has been paved, it has been a race-track at night.

Alderman Boker commented that he had toured the city with the police chief one night and found the Seventh Ward to be "the darkest in town."

He called for immediate steps to be taken to proceed with street and alley light installations.

His companion, Alderman Daves, said any resident's learning identity of prowlers should press charges against them as a corrective measure.

Alderman Basarich, chairman of the Light committee, said two alley lights are on a list for presentation at next week's council meeting, and that he doubted if the council could install four in a one-block alley.

Referred to City Atty. Scroggins was a notice of intent to seek damages against the city by Donald and Denise Seitzer, 2306 East 25th street, for injuries suffered on the afternoon of April 29 by Denise Seitzer in a fall through a defective lid on a coal chute in the sidewalk along 21st street near Delmar avenue. No amount was specified.

Council authorization was given for Mayor Partney and Atty. Scroggins to attend an Illinois Commerce Commission hearing at 2 p.m. Sept. 3 in Springfield on the application by East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. for a 47% increase in water rates. The mayor and attorney are to oppose the rate boost.

Mayor Partney was instructed to send a telegram immediately to Cong. Price in Washington, asking his assistance in halting House committee action toward removal of the tax-exempt status of municipal bonds. The council also instructed Atty. Scroggins to prepare a resolution stating city objections. The city resolution is to be adopted next week and forwarded to members of the House committee.

Alderman Partney, chairman of the council's Planning and Zoning committee, said final action is needed on several annexations that have been approved by the council but need plans for filing with the council. He listed Pease Lutheran Church, two houses on Independence drive and houses at 2601 and 2603 Missouri avenue.

He called for legal descriptions to be furnished to the city attorney, who is to work with the city engineer to prepare plot plans for filing.

Seeger erred when he opened the front jail cell door to allow Bridges to bring a cellblock can out, according to the sheriff. He was jumped by the four.

"This was no jailbreak," Musso said. "If the two jailers had carried out orders, this thing would have never happened. It was a human error, not the fault of the jail."

Bridges accompanied the quartet in their flight. They were captured last week after an armed robbery and gun battle with police in Toledo, O., and Bridges was returned here Saturday. The other four are to face charges in Ohio.

Two County Jailers Suspended over Escape

A two-week suspension without pay was ordered for two Madison county jailers this week by Sheriff George Musso as the result of the July 18 jailbreak in which five prisoners escaped.

Musso charged jailers Robert Kingsbury and Alan Seeger with "neglect and carelessness" following an investigation. He interviewed other jailers who witnessed the break.

Musso said Kingsbury was careless in opening a cellblock door while the cell door inside was not locked, giving the prisoners an opportunity to jump Kingsbury and a trusty, Robert Bridges, by four of the prisoners.

Bridges accompanied the quartet in their flight. They were captured last week after an armed robbery and gun battle with police in Toledo, O., and Bridges was returned here Saturday. The other four are to face charges in Ohio.

An Open Letter To the General Public (Regarding the Sale of Your Home)

WHO WILL YOU CHOOSE "TODAY" TO SELL
YOUR HOME TOMORROW?
(THE MOST IMPORTANT TRANSACTION OF YOUR LIFE)

Will you be a "RIVERBOAT GAMBLER" (taken from a quote by Chicago Title Co.) and choose a part-time real estate operator, who thinks so little of your home that he works at another job to make a living. Or a part time greenhorn salesman, with little or no professional knowhow. Of course he may be licensed, but remember this, you also need a license to drive a truck, sell hot dogs, or put on a medicine show.

Perhaps you will choose one of the "FAST BUCK BOYS," (an expression taken from one bitter letter or complaint). Yes the "FAST BUCK BOYS" will lead you thru green pastures, charm you with sweet smiles and big puts on the back. Yes, life will be one big bowl of cherries until you come to the closing of your deal. In fact you may wind up with a big paper profit (paper that is), but very little money, as one letter of complaint stated, "When you ask what happened to all the goodies I was promised? Answer, 'GONE WITH THE WIND.'"

Or finally you will choose NOT to take "POT LUCK" (after all its your money and you are entitled to the best) and select a "REALTOR." For more than 50 years "REALTORS" have earned a proud reputation, as the finest Real Estate Brokers in the land. They are recognized, for their professional knowhow, financial stability, integrity, and high standards of conduct, as absolute "TOPS," in their profession. And as such have elevated the profession of Real Estate to a very high level of respect and trust with the general public.

This very fact has created problems for so many good people who have written in to complain, "well he was a real estate man, so I thought he was O.K." We respectfully submit again that just any real estate operator is NOT a "REALTOR" and a "REALTOR" is NOT just any real estate operator.

NOTE: A "REALTOR" always gives good service. He does NOT "play games" with you and your home. He is devoted to serving you and you alone. He has no other job to distract him, because REAL ESTATE is his business and his life.

City to Designate Arterial Streets Without State Ok

A change in state law permits a city to designate streets as arterial thoroughfares without approval of the state department of public works, the Granite City council was advised Monday night in a letter from the Highway District 11 office.

The notification was received with the city's resolution asking streets in the Maryland Heights area to be designated arterial to qualify for improvement with motor fuel tax funds and said state approval is no longer required.

Placed on file was the appraisal of the 106x125-foot lot in the 1800 block of Edison avenue, off 19th street, on which the city installed 35 parking meters for downtown retailers.

The appraisal set the value of the lot at $25,000, and Alderman Nona called for the Finance committee to meet with officials of the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank to negotiate.

The bank wants $4,000 for the lot, since a building that formerly housed an auto supply firm was razed to make way for a downtown municipal lot.

Nothing in Writing
Nona pointed out that while the city has nothing in writing agreeing to purchase the lot from the Downtown Retailers Association, there has been a verbal agreement.

Council members rejected his motion for the Finance committee to study the appraisal when Alderman Boyd pointed out the committee already had met with the merchants on three occasions.

With the rejection, Nona said the city then should remove the parking meters. We can't have meters on private property. It looks to me that this appraisal did not take into consideration the building that was on the property. We need to help the downtown district or there'll be nothing there in five years and the city will begin to lose tax money.

In further discussion, Moerlian said the city made a mistake in putting 10 cents per hour meters on the lot "when people can park on the street for a nickel an hour or for just a few pennies for a shorter time."

"Will Come Up Again"
"This will be coming up again," Moerlian said. The city last year had agreed to cooperate with the Downtown Retailers Association in the development of the lot for a paved, lighted downtown metered lot with the revenue from meters to be used by the city to buy the lot. However, revenue of slightly more than $100 a month is not ample to pay the debt in the specified five-year period, it was noted.

Ordinances designating new stop signs and a no-parking zone were approved. The stop

10 Building Permits List $36,982 Values

Ten building permits listing values totaling $36,982 are the latest issued for new construction in Granite City.

They increased the totals for the month to 34 permits with values of $589,620. The most recent permits were obtained by:

Jerald Shafer, 343 Palm street, an eight-room apartment over an existing garage at 2917 Edwardsville road, $24,800; Carl Humphreys, an addition to the Peck Radiator building, 1735 Madison avenue, $7,932.

Graceland General Baptist Church, 2033 Johnson road, a 50x120-foot revival tent for a United Crusade, $685; Lenard Merrill, 1813 Ferguson avenue, repairs to garage, $40; Kenneth Huntley, 2361 Center street, install siding on garage; Hungarian hall, 1801 Spruce street, repair roof, $30.

Otto Hartman, 2443 Grand avenue, a carport, $250; Albert Herschbach, 2316 O'Hare avenue, repairs to garage, $40; Kenneth Huntley, 2361 Center street, install siding on garage; Hungarian hall, 1801 Spruce street, repair roof, $30.

In addition a permit was granted to Raymond McKee to raise an addition at 1301 Edwardsville road.

5 Granite Cityans File Bankruptcy Petitions

Petitions of bankruptcy are on file for five Granite Cityans at the office of the U.S. Referee in Bankruptcy, Springfield, the Associated Retailers office was advised this week.

The petitions are for Lois M. Jones, 4032 Division street; Joyce Ann Whitman, 3403 Kirkpatrick home; Virgil Fabius Wicker, 1628 Maple street; Vincent Dale Fisher sr., 4001 Kirkpatrick home; and Paul McBride, 3951 Pontoon road.

Signs are to be placed on Lincoln avenue at August street, making the intersection a four-way stop, and the no-parking zone will be along 25th street on the north side between Adams and Benton streets.

Permission was given First Church of Christ at 2400 East 25th street, to erect metal directional signs on Madison avenue at 26th street and on East 23rd street at August avenue.

Brickwork Bids
Alderman Boyd, chairman of the Street committee, motioned for the Finance committee to call for bids for contract brickwork for the street department in accordance with an agreement made with the Bricklayers Union.

At the request of Alderman Boyd, a warrant is to be issued if "neck-high weeds" on the property of Reeves Concrete Co. in North Granite are not cut this week.

Arrangements are being made, it was reported by Alderman Dallas, for S. M. Wilson & Co., storm sewer contractor, to replace damaged curb along Monroe street.

HITTING A TETHER BALL is Jo Elaine Macios, 10-year-old burn victim, to prove her recovery is progressing very well. She is shown with her sister, Carla, in the backyard of their home at 78 Cambridge drive. She sustained severe burns, in an accident at home, on Dec. 25.

Local Family Praises Shriners for Aid Given Daughter at Cincinnati Burn Center

Sincere praise for the Shriners and for their Burn Institute at Cincinnati, Ohio, is being expressed by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Macios, whose 10-year-old daughter, Jo Elaine, now is home and recuperating from extensive burns suffered last Christmas Day. She was a patient at the Shriners Burn Center for four months.

The young girl sustained burns over 30% to 35% of her body when her cotton flannel pajamas caught fire as she attempted to turn off a burner of an electric stove at the Macios home at 78 Cambridge drive.

Not realizing how rapidly the flames were spreading, the girl tried to beat out the fire herself before calling her mother for help.

Suffering severe burns, she was taken to Barnes Hospital in St. Louis and on Dec. 30 was transferred to the Shriners Burn Center in Ohio after her condition.

Regular Shiner Program
Lipe, a member of the Tri-City Shrine Club, has the responsibility to offer assistance to burn victims in this area throughout the Shriners program for children.

"No one," Mrs. Macios commented, "could possibly realize just how wonderful the Shriners have been through this whole ordeal."

"They provided all hospital and doctor care at the Burn Center, with no charge to us, and the Center will continue to check on Jo Elaine's condition until she is finally released."

The Macios family was unaware of the existence of such a center until Mr. Lipe called at their home to offer assistance.

Kept Up With Studies
While at the center, the young girl was provided with a teacher from the Cincinnati public school system and kept her up to date with her classmates at Parkview school. She will enter the fifth grade this fall.

Mrs. Macios said her daughter is required to wear a brace at night to hold her arms at a certain position and a neck brace at night and sometimes during the day, to keep her chin from being drawn down toward the chest. "This," Mrs. Macios explained, "is one of the dangers in convalescence of burn victims."

and knowledge, to help children. The circus is an annual affair to raise money for projects sponsored by the Shriners.

Plans For Expansion
Tentative plans are now under way to enlarge the facilities at the Cincinnati Center for treatment of more than just 30 children at a time.

The Macios, who are the parents of five other children, twin girls, Jo Ann and Julie born just three days after the accident, Carla, 11, Mark, 8, and Kathleen, 5, stressed that if people realize how great an effort is being made by the Shriners to help children, they would wholeheartedly support their projects for raising funds.

During the time of her hospital confinement, her parents were able to visit in her room and had to wear a hospital cap and face mask.

The center, which accommodates 30 children at a time, is built in a circular form with all rooms on the outside and enclosed in glass. Visitors may travel the round, or circular hall, and see each room. Protecting and treating the children is the prime objective of the Center.

During the time the Shriners Circus was performing in Belleville in June, Jo Elaine with four other youngsters, also burn victims who were assisted by the Shriners, volunteered to ride in an open car for the spectators to see just how much facilities the high school.

Prompt registration is required for the scheduling of classes for the start of school late in August. Enrollment of 3200 students, an increase of 200 over last year, is expected by the high school.

Registration is now being taken at the Granite City high school for students who have moved to this area during the summer and plan to attend classes for the next school term. Students are asked to report to the high school office, 3100 Madison avenue, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily, accompanied by a parent, as soon as possible.

Army Security Agency Seeks Qualified Men

Choice assignments with the U.S. Army Security Agency are now available for men who can qualify, it was announced this week by Sgt. Morris L. Cook, chief of the Army recruiting office at 1340 Niedringhaus avenue. Eligible applicants may train in electronics, radio code, communications security, languages, and many other desirable occupations.

Sgt. Cook said that in the electronic field a man is schooled in testing and performing repairs and maintenance on all types of electronic equipment. He receives instruction in electric fundamentals, circuitry, and then moves on to advanced work in electronics.

He further said that training in radio code teaches men to become skilled in radio communications, while communications security trains them in solving cryptograms—using symbols and ciphers, plotting direction finder bearings and performing basic traffic analysis.

He pointed out that a young man may even acquire the ability to translate, speak and write a foreign language and develop that skill to the point where he compares favorably with a native in the country he is assigned. Among the languages taught are: Chinese, German, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Polish, Russian and Turkish.

Cook, chief of the Army recruiting office at 1340 Niedringhaus avenue. Eligible applicants may train in electronics, radio code, communications security, languages, and many other desirable occupations.

Sgt. Cook said that in the electronic field a man is schooled in testing and performing repairs and maintenance on all types of electronic equipment. He receives instruction in electric fundamentals, circuitry, and then moves on to advanced work in electronics.

He further said that training in radio code teaches men to become skilled in radio communications, while communications security trains them in solving cryptograms—using symbols and ciphers, plotting direction finder bearings and performing basic traffic analysis.

He pointed out that a young man may even acquire the ability to translate, speak and write a foreign language and develop that skill to the point where he compares favorably with a native in the country he is assigned. Among the languages taught are: Chinese, German, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Polish, Russian and Turkish.
